Crowd Fills Village Hall For Protest

A standing-room-only audience of about 40 neighbors crowded into the Antioch Village Board meeting Monday night to protest against a proposed rezoning to multiple units for a project on Anita St.

On arrival they learned this proposal was not even on the agenda because it had not yet been heard and forwarded by the planning commission. It had been rescheduled for public hearing at the commission meeting Thursday, Feb. 19, at 7:30 p.m. in the village hall.

The village board accepted and placed on file their petition objecting to the rezoning. It was signed by one neighbor from Rinear Rd.

and 14 others from Garys Dr.

Board members also apologized that many members of the audience had to stand even after extra chairs were brought in. They promised that the new larger meeting room would be in use by the next board meeting.

In response to a question from the audience, Kenneth Clark, village attorney, checked the ordinance book regarding such petitions. He said that if the owners of 20 percent of the footage fronting on any one side petition to object to a rezoning request, a two-thirds vote by the trustees is required to approve it.

Clark added that this rule does not apply to the planning commission, whose hearing the neighbors were talking of attending. He pointed out that this also would have applied to the zoning board action, but their hearing already had been held before the petition was submitted.

Vern Burdick, a member of the zoning board, said he was at the village board meeting "as a citizen." After extensive discussion back and forth between the audience and board members, however, Burdick commented, "We had an open hearing at the zoning board and no opposition appeared. You people should have been there then."

Village officials pointed out that the zoning board had held a public hearing. All property owners adjoining the rezoning area and within 200 feet were notified in advance of that hearing.

Hillview Troubles Continue to Rise

by RUTH SUTTON

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency (IEPA) has asked the Illinois Pollution Control Board (IPCB) to dismiss a petition by Hillview Farms Fertilizers, Inc., for review of its permit appeal.

The IEPA listed several reasons for recommending dismissal in a post hearing memorandum submitted by Stephen C. Ewart, senior attorney. In it he says, "During this proceeding, 1,900 pages of records were organized by this agency and submitted prior to seven hearing dates, which hearings generated 1,602 pages of transcript. However, at the conclusion of this proceeding, having heard from petitioner's nationally-known experts, respondent (IEPA) maintains that petitioner (Hillview) has failed to provide an accurate account of how many injectable acres Hillview has to apply the existing level or the proposed increased level of sludge consistent with water pollution regulations of the board and the environmental protection act."

The IEPA memorandum states that Hillview's petition should be dismissed, first, because of a precedent in which the board found it had no authority to decide a petition for review while a permit application is pending. The review petition is dated Jan. 31, 1986, and the permit application Jan. 22, 1986.

Second, the IEPA brief states that "Hillview's stipulation endorsing the agency's denial of additional waste storage conceded the correctness of the agency's determination that the permit, if granted, would violate board rules and the act."

Third, the IEPA claims, "It is petitioner's burden to show on appeal that its prospective activities as evidenced in the record before the agency at the time of its decision will not violate the act or regulations adopted pur-

Girl Scout Expo At Lakehurst

Girl Scouts from 53 communities in the Illinois Prairie Girl Scout Council will present their annual Expo on Saturday, Feb. 21. The 1987 exhibition celebrates the 75th Anniversary of Girl Scouts of the U.S.A.

Over 2,000 Girl Scouts and their leaders are displaying projects in health and safety, technology, community service, puppetry, environmental awareness and recreational activities.

The all day panorama begins at 10 a.m. at Lakehurst Mall, Waukegan, with a cheerleading competition. The contest features all age levels from Daisy Girl Scouts (5 years old) through the Cadette level (ages 12-14). Each participating troop has written and choreographed its own original cheer to celebrate the kick-off of the 1987 Girl Scout Cookie Sale.

Cheerleading Chairman Kay Monroe of Elk Grove says, "Our girls have been working on perfecting their cheers for months. The public is welcome to join us and cheer on the 600 girls participating."

The "Visions of the Future" display contest will be judged at 10:30 a.m. by judges David Kennedy, former publisher of Waukegan News Sun; and Sharon Asquith, Art Director of the David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville. The entries depict America's future, and the role of future Girl Scouts, as seen through the eyes of today's girls.

"This is the biggest Expo we've ever had," says volunteer Expo Chairman, Erica Dabrowski. "With over 150 troops participating in the fashion show, display contest, cheerleading competition, and booth exhibits, there's something for everybody."

The fashion show highlights the latest in spring fashions and Girl Scout Attire for 15 to 17 year old girls. The show begins at 12:30 p.m. in the center of the mall, immediately after the announcement of "Visions" winners.

As the price of admissions, troops are donating cans of food for distribution to Cook and Lake County Food Banks.

For further information, please call the Girl Scout Centers at (312) 640-5000 or (312) 249-5830.

Public Service Grows

Fred Geiger, chief judge of the 19th judicial circuit announced that the number of people sentenced to public service by Lake County judges rose for the fifth consecutive year in 1986.

Circuit court judges ordered over 236,000 hours to be performed by 3,157 adults and juveniles as part of the punishment for their offenses last year. The work is performed for governmental, religious, charitable and veterans organizations at no cost to the agency involved.

Interested groups may call (312) 360-7379 to see if they qualify for participation.

Calvary Christian School Holds Science Fair

Calvary Christian School, located on Monaville Rd. in Lake Villa, held its first science fair on Feb. 5. It drew such enthusiastic participation that plans are set to make it an annual event.

As the children enthusiastically shared the information they had gathered, the onlookers came away richer with knowledge as to why airplanes fly, how to get birds at a feeder to eat all the seeds, shampoo comparisons and the effects of electricity on crystalization.

The culmination of their five months of effort came when principal and pastor John Backes announced the judges' decisions and ribbons, trophies and plaques were awarded.

Critic's Choice In... Lakeland

Reflect On 'Patent'

by GLORIA DAVIS

Broadway doesn't know what it missed when the "Big Apple" as usual bowed to the opinion of the New York Times' theater critic and turned thumbs down on "Do Black Patent Leather Shoes Really Reflect Up."

The fact that the original Chicago musical has broken box office records everywhere else and is back doing the same thing in Chicago where it holds the "longest running musical" record, from 1979 to 1982, should attest to the audience's receptiveness of John Powers' play of the scare tactics Catholic teens had to deal with 20 and 30 years ago.

This time "Black Patent" is appearing at the Civic Theater, one of Chicago-land's best.

Russ Thacker plays Eddie Ryan, the tormented 1950s-60s Catholic adolescent realistically, rating a well-done for his singing and acting and Eileen Blackman, ex-dork who finally gets to crown the Blessed Virgin, turns in a good performance in the same two categories.

Louis DeCrescenzo, the "fat boy", rates an outstanding for his entire performance and especially for his Elvis number "Doo Waa Doo Wee".

Other scene stealers include Don (sex-minded) Stitt and the teacher's pet, Bernice Wood, who not only steals a scene but practically the entire first act of the play.

Carol Estey as Sister Lee, who reminded me of the grandmother on "The Golden Girls", had me holding my sides remembering quite a few older nuns from my own high school days as did Wally Englehardt's Father O'Reilly. Englehardt's performance was particularly memorable during the confession scene.

Loved all the song and dance numbers, all of which sound familiar but none of hit parade quality, and the giant black patent leather shoes were real show stoppers.

I could have recited the whole premise of the show because my biology teacher at a girls' Catholic Academy in the 1950's was always reciting, "Don't ever wear patent leather shoes, they reflect up; don't wear pearls, they reflect down; don't go to restaurants that have white tablecloths with a boy, it will remind him of bed sheets and don't sit on a boy's lap unless you have a magazine between you or he will feel your garters and get excited."

But "Black Patent" doesn't just appeal to the teens of the 50s, my son who went to a Catholic school in the late 60's and early 70's also loved the play.

Its a good wholesome nostalgic musical that will have you humming and tapping your feet no matter what your religion or age. On a scale of one to 10, this reviewer gives "Black Patent" an eight-and-one half.

Cast of 'Patent Shoes'

CLC Investigates 'Crimes of the Heart'

The cast for the College of Lake County's spring theater production, "Crimes of the Heart," has been selected and is well into its rehearsal schedule, according to Robert J. Coscarelli, CLC faculty member and production director.

"Crimes of the Heart," a Pulitzer Prize winning play by Beth Henley, will be presented on March 13, 14, 20, 21 at 8 p.m. and March 15 at 2 p.m. in the theater in building 5 on the Grayslake campus.

This warm-hearted, irreverent and brilliantly imaginative play teems with humanity and humor as it examines the plight of three young Mississippi sisters betrayed by their passions.

Katharine Kramer of Round Lake Beach will play

Lenny, the oldest sister who is unmarried at age 30 and is facing diminishing marital prospects.

Meg, the middle sister played by Debi White of Grayslake, has returned to her hometown after a failed singing career; while the youngest sister Babe, played by Carrie Starzec of Grayslake, is out on bail after having shot her husband in the stomach.

Others in this cast of unusual and realistic characters include the sisters' spiteful cousin Chick, played by Beth M.

Gareis of Libertyville; the young, attractive lawyer, Barnette Lloyd, played by John Jaraczewski of Waukegan, who comes to Babe's defense; and Doc, the hometown man, played by Christopher Cary of Antioch, who was once in love with Meg.

Tickets for "Crimes of the Heart" are available at the student activities events window at the Grayslake campus or by calling (312) 223-6601, ext. 550. Tickets are $4 for the general public. Student, staff and alumni tickets are $2.

'South Pacific' Comes To Opera House

Charles Gessert, Jr., of Elgin has been named director of the Woodstock Musical Theatre Co.'s spring production, "South Pacific," producer Lou Czarny announced.

The Woodstock Musical Theatre Co. cast and behind-the-scenes volunteers, are presenting the musical to help celebrate the 10th anniversary of the restoration of the Woodstock Opera House.

The Opera House, which is on the National Register of Historic Landmarks, will be the setting for the love story between a nurse and a plantation owner starting Friday, April 3.

Gessert, season ticket and group sales manager for Poplar Creek Music Theatre at Hoffman Estates, received a bachelor of fine arts degree from the University of Illinois in May, 1984. As a senior, he directed "South Pacific" at the Krannert Center in Urbana.

"South Pacific" will be presented for 10 performances from April 3 through 18. Czarny recalled "South Pacific" was the first musical presented by the Woodstock Musical Theatre Co. 10 years ago following modernization of the Woodstock Opera House.

Several cast members from 1977 have auditioned for this year's show, and rehearsals will be taking place soon.

Czarny announced other production officials. Joyce Sanford, band director at Johnsbury High School, will be orchestral director for the show.

With a cast numbering about 45, "South Pacific" features many dances and highly imaginative musical numbers.

Sanford obtained her bachelor's degree in musical education at the University of Illinois in 1984 and is working on her master's degree. She performed with the Marching Illini, the University Steel Band, and toured the Soviet Union and Scandinavia in 1978 while with the Illini.

Symphony Chorus Owes Success To Don Horisberger

Don Horisberger returns for his eighth season as director of the Waukegan Symphony Chorus. A native of Ohio, he received his bachelor of music degree from Capital University Conservatory of Music in Columbus, Ohio, with emphasis in organ and church music, and studied choral conducting with Stephen Klyce and Lewis Whikehart.

Coming to the Chicago area for further study, he received his master of music degree from Northwestern University where he studied choral conducting with Margaret Hillis.

After returning to Capital University to teach for a year, he was awarded a Fulbright Scholarship for study of contemporary performance techniques at the Hochschule fur Musik, Theater und Tanz in Essen-Werden, Germany.

Upon returning to the United States, he entered the doctoral program on scholarship at Northwestern University, again studying choral conducting with Hillis, and was awarded the doctor of music degree in 1985.

Drawing from his experience and innate talent, Dr. Horisberger has a vigor and enthusiasm for choral music which he conveys to the chorists. His knowledge and understanding of choral music, combined with his intuitive perception of the increasing ability of and skill of the chorus, allow him to program a season which is challenging and enjoyable to chorus and audiences alike.

He emphasizes development of musicianship and vocal techniques through a variety of singing experiences. His attention to detail and his dedication to creating a balanced, well-blended choral sound have been major factors in the tremendous growth in both size and quality of the chorus, contributing to its growing reputation as one of the finest choral ensembles in the area.

His skill and achievements in the choral art have been deservedly recognized by his associates, as he and the chorus were selected to perform at the American Choral Directors Assn.'s Illinois State Convention in October, 1986.

Horisberger is a professional member of the Chicago Symphony Chorus, for which he has sung understudy roles. He also serves as bass section leader and is assistant to the German coach for the internationally-know organization.

His Orchestra Hall debut was made in 1984 when he conducted members of the Chicago Symphony Chorus on the annual Hillis Fellowship Fund Christmas Concert.

In addition, he serves as director of music at the First Presbyterian Church of Waukegan and is an organ recitalist performing in this country and in Europe. A member of numerous professional and honorary music societies, he is increasingly in demand as a guest conductor, clinician, adjudicator and lecturer.

Still Looking For Talent

The Littlefort Lamplighters theatre group will stage the charming tale of "Snow White and The Seven Dwarfs" at the beautiful, historic Genesee Theatre, 205 N. Genesee, Waukegan, on Friday, Feb. 27 at 9:45 a.m. and 12:15 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 28 at 3 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, March 1 at 3 p.m.

Exactly 50 years ago, Walt Disney produced his beloved animated version of "Snow White", after seeing this theatrical adaptation of the Grimm's fairy tale which was first presented in New York in 1925.

The Lamplighters have put together a magnificent cast of seasoned actors, to bring to life all our familiar friends from this classic tale. Young veteran Bonnie Hladish stars as the beautiful Snow White, whom she portrays with such compelling innocence that audiences can't help but feel her dismay over her cruel treatment by the wicked queen, (played with appropriate verve by New York actress Rebecca Hamilton. Cheer for the handsome prince (rendered by the suave, Hollywood bound Jim Hasset) to rescue her from her misery. Of course, seven delightful dwarfs will be on hand for the amusement of all.

Ticket prices are $5 adults, $3 students, seniors, and military, and $2.50 for groups with advanced registration.

For reservations call the Genesee Theatre Box Office, (312) 336-0494. Also ask for information about upcoming productions "Harvey" in May, and the gala summer musical "Kid Video."

St. Benedict's Hosts Day Of Renewal

No reservations are necessary; bring a lunch to share.

Directing this zany, heart-warming comedy by the author of "Crimes of the Heart" is California actor, director and author, Neal LaVine. Beth Henley is a great writer, says LaVine, because she creates sympathetic, multi-dimensional characters who are "beautifully delicate, yet comic."

The cast includes Daria Ferrante O'Brien, Mat-teson; Lynne Schillaci, Glencoe; Jon Cobb, Rolling Meadows; Kent Streed, Lake Forest; and Elizabeth Smith, Round Lake.

Lighting designer is Steve Carmichael, assistant Barat College professor and director of the Drake Theatre. Costumes are being designed by Kent Streed, a member of the cast and a Barat faculty member.

Quality Care Elusive By Anyone's Definition

We got together, my friends and I, at our almost-monthly dinner. Dr. Synik was present. I like when he's there because he is somewhat like a quarterback named McMahon. He makes things happen. Since he define good quality medical care?"

I'd rather we started on a less contentious note so I tried pouring oil on troubled waters. "You're asking the impossible, Synik," I said. "It's an abstraction. Years ago, we felt that the emergency rooms at small-town hospitals were being overutilized, so we tried to define the word emergency. There was no agreement between doctors, hospitals or patients. The patients added convenience so sometimes they visited the emergency room after they ate supper or came home from work. The hospitals felt it inappropriate to turn anyone away. What if the patients were right, or they exercised their prerogative of a free society to sue? In any event, they thought it was poor public relations. Patients now come when they consider it necessary. The subject now is brought up rarely—only when cost is considered. Quality care is just like 'emergency,' very arguable."

Yugfren was unappeased. "Good medical care is that quality afforded a patient by an adequately trained physician with means deemed most likely to have a good result and so approved by his peers."

"Ho, ho," chortled Synik. "You're talking review by a jury of your peers or PRO."

While Donnie, the waitress, took orders, there was only a slight pause.

Dr. Wirtuos said with deep resignation, "There's nothing more likely to give our profession indignation than bringing up PROS or peer review organizations."

Dr. Bopal joined the fray. He is usually the person most apt to be precise in language. "You have to differentiate two kinds of peer review. One is in a hospital setting where a committee of a doctor's peers with adequate protection of due process will review his performance or quality of care. The new law passed by the 99th Congress protects the committee from suits. We don't have much problem with that here. We've been reviewing for many years."

"And the other one," prompted Synik.

Bopal's language can be really Americanese, especially now since his son reached Little League age. "You're talking about the Medicare PRO. That's a group which contracts to inspect charts at the hospital and advise, among other things, as to whether the patient should even have been there. They are said to have signed a new two-year contract. Actually, these contractual groups are gagging a little. The powers that be have asked them to add evaluation of quality so it nearly doubles their load. I don't think they're paying them double though."

Whinerk was most thoughtful. "They actually told about 27 of the PRO groups nationally, they had been doing it wrong. Are we to assume that these 27 groups advised that Medicare pay or not pay and were wrong? Youngfren's definition of quality care may not be acceptable or they may change it."

We dug into our meals. Synik wasn't done yet. "Well, hot shot," this addressed to me. "You gave us quite a column two weeks ago. Someone out there is reading it. I even got some feedback from my own patients. But when is the deep stuff like HMO's coming?"

I contented myself with saluting him in my usual dignified manner, using my salad fork.

This time Bopal did not disappoint me. "HMO's or Health Maintenance Organizations are prepaid health plans intended to cut down on health costs. They care for your health needs, paying for what is considered medically necessary and fostering preventive means intended to keep patients healthy."

"Right," I said. "And then there are IPA's, PPO's, and numerous variations. All will have to be measured by what any individual considers good care. It is like the old story of the blind men who felt different parts of an elephant. One said it was a wall, another a snake, another a tree. They can only be compared by what the patient needs. To that end, a questionnaire would probably be useful to help a hypothetical patient pick what kind of care he should get: private or HMO?"

We had finished now and bid our adieus. Outside, wrapping my muffler, I walked through the slush to my car. My colleagues, with their definitions, had clarified my musings and I hope yours.

spares no one, I call him "outrageous."

Friday, he didn't wait for us all to be seated when, apparently continuing an already ongoing conversation, he took Dr. Yungfren to task. "Then, how would you

VFW Plans Special Sale

The Lake Villa VFW Post No. 4308 will hold a White Elephant Sale on Saturday, Feb. 28, beginning at 9 a.m.

Chairman Larry Muckey and Howard Hansen are asking all friends and neighbors to bring all their odd items around the house and donate them to the sale. All proceeds from the sale will go to further all community activities for the area.

Anyone having articles for the sale can bring to the Post Home in Lake Villa located at Grand Ave. and the railroad tracks, and they will be accepted. Those who cannot get over to the Post Home can call (312) 356-9848 and someone will come over and pick up the items.

Funds derived from the sale will help cover expenses for the Memorial Day Parade, Boy Scout and Girl Scout donations, senior citizens and childrens' Christmas parties and also many other important community projects funded by the VFW Post 4308.

The sale will be of an auction type so that all parties may have a chance to procure the articles of their choice. This is a good chance to clean out the basements and garage of all unwanted items.

Refreshments will be served in the kitchen for all who desire to stay around and have some fun. Coffee, coffee cake, hot dogs and trimmings will be available.

True Value Wins '86 Growth Award

Lawn-Boy Manufacturing, a product group of OMC, Inc. has announced that the Antioch and Lindenhurst True Value stores are recipients of the 1986 Growth Achievement Award for increased sales, marketing and merchandise efforts in the marketing of Lawn-Boy lawn mowers.

"We are very proud of our success in selling Lawn-

Boy," stated Stan Livermore, one of the two store owners. "And," he continued, "we are very proud of the quality and value Lawn-Boy offers our customers."

Since 1983, when the Antioch store was purchased by Livermore and Bob Leavitt, a strong emphasis has been placed on Lawn and Garden marketing. This emphasis, and success, was carried by Livermore, Leavitt, and new partners, Egan Sorenson and George Livermore, into the Lindenhurst store in 1985.

"The average homeowner spends $200 per year on lawn and garden items," said Livermore, "and lawn and garden care is fun."

The emphasis that these True Value Stores place on lawn and garden will continue to be witnessed with the addition of the Green Thumb Professional Lawn Care Service this spring. Rick Lawrence, partner and lawn care specialist, has been trained and licensed for this work. "I am excited about this new venture, and very proud of our successes in marketing lawn and garden products," Lawrence said.

Lawn And Garden Award Winners

Owners of Antioch and Lindenhurst True Value Hardware Stores accept Lawn-Boy's Growth Achievement Award for 1986. Attending presentation are, from left: Ned Charlton, Chicagoland zone manager for Lawn Boy; Allan Meyer, Lawn Boy sales representative; Stan Livermore and Bob Leavitt, True Value owners; Ken Taylor, Lawn Boy distribution manager; and Egan Sorensen and George Livermore, True Value owners.

EMERGENCIES arise in everyone's life — sometimes more frequently than we would like. We spend thousands of dollars on insurance, dead bolt locks, smoke detectors, alarms, and so forth. And yet, health can suffer or a life can be lost for lack of access to something as common and simple as a telephone. Luckily, this has been a mild winter; but, the next time your car breaks down, how cold will it be and how far will you be from a phone? Can your babysitter reach you when she needs to? How fast could you summon a police car or an ambulance in an unfamiliar area? The peace of mind offered by a cellular car telephone is more affordable today than ever before. For about the cost of a 25" color television, you can purchase a car telephone. And service rates start as low as $5.00 per month. Call Mundelein Communications today for more information. We can install your phone the same day.

Banking, Entertainment May Offer Good Buys

by GARY S. MEYERS

The venerable Wells Fargo banking company is one of the safest investments you can make, while a newly restructured entertainment behemoth may offer sharp growth in returns, according to Thomas Hoden, the Meyers Report stock pro for the week.

Hoden, a vice president of Fort Collins, Colo., based Hanifen, Imhoff, Inc.,

recommends the following stocks as good buys at this time.

General Mills.

Suitable for: Conservative investors seeking long-term growth should consider this giant food packager, which also is in the restaurant and retailing businesses.

Description: In addition to Betty Crocker products, Bisquick, Gold Medal Flour and Nature Valley Granola Bars, General Mills owns the Red Lobster chain of restaurants. The company also owns specialty retailers—The Talbots, which sells women's apparel, and Eddie Bauer, marketers of outdoor apparel through retail stores and catalog sales.

Performance: In the first half of the 1987 fiscal year, earnings were $1.29, vs. $1.05 for the same period last year—a 23 percent gain.

Forecast: Look for high earnings for the foreseeable future. General Mills is a billion-dollar company in terms of sales, and is well-positioned in its respective businesses.

"General Mills is a truly superior company which should trade at a 30 percent premium to the overall market. This would give us a target price of around $60," said Hoden.

It is currently trading at about $45.

Wells Fargo.

Suitable for: This is an ideal core holding—about as safe as it gets.

Description: Wells Fargo is the 10th-largest U.S. bank holding company, with $43.6 billion in assets and 662 offices. Its non-banking activities include leasing, mortgage banking, consumer and agricultural credit, and credit life insurance.

It acquired Crocker National Bank in May, 1986. Wells Fargo believes this acquisition will boost its earnings in 1987.

Performance: Wells Fargo split two to one on Jan. 20, which Hoden says will improve prospects for its "already well-established growth. They simply have superior management."

Forecast: Hoden projects that earnings should grow at 20 percent-plus through 1988, reaching $6.25 for 1987 and $7.50 for 1988.

"Wells Fargo was the best-performing stock of the 50 largest banking companies during 1986," said Hoden. "Look for it to do even better in 1987."

Lorimar-Telepictures.

Suitable for: This stock is suitable for moderately aggressive investors.

Description: Lorimar, a broadly based entertainment company, just restructured itself as a holding company. It now consists of two divisions, Lorimar Telepictures Entertainment (the largest U.S. supplier of original network and first-run syndicated TV programming) and Lorimar Telepictures Broadcasting, which owns nine TV stations.

Performance: Lorimar stock topped out at 33 prior to the restructuring and then dove dramatically to 17. "The factors causing decline were mostly psychological," said Hoden. "Investors panicked at the thought of a change and sold heavily."

Forecast: Hoden calls for the stock to rise again. Over the next 18 months he projects a nearly 50 percent gain in TV income and more from the home video and advertising businesses.

"Look for a 20 percent annual growth rate in earnings for at least the next two years," said Hoden. "Our target price per share is $35."

Village Board

The village officials stressed to the audience that Thursday's upcoming hearing before the planning commission was specifically, and only, to consider the developer's application that had already been submitted, a request for rezoning from R-4 to R-5 multiple units, and the final P.U.D. plans detailing the property layout, landscaping such as existing trees of more than 10 in. diameter, open space, and a 150 ft. buffer strip.

Citizens pointed out that the proposal calls for six buildings of 16 apartments each on slightly more than six acres of land, including the parking area and buffer. They expressed objection to such heavy concentration.

They also questioned whether enough tenants could be found for this many units. Mayor Toft responded that developers only want to build multiple units when they find sufficient demand for them in the area.

Although members of the audience sometimes spoke two or three at a time, there was no hostility on either side of the discussion. Much of the questioning took the form of clarification of the situation and what could be done about it.

The citizens raised the issue of whether the proposed new storm water retention ponds for the area could handle the extra burden of this project. Mayor Toft replied that one of the ponds on Anita St. was increased in size from two to three and a half acres with help of property donated for this purpose, and would be adequate.

Toft also pointed out that the project parking area might be designed to control slow runoff, like those at Jewel-Osco and McDonald's. These parking areas are sunken lower than the surrounding streets and properties and temporarily hold back part of the water.

In response to another question from the audience, Toft denied that there is any truth to a rumor about possible plans to connect Greenbriar St. through because of the proposed apartments. The mayor stated that the village owns the 6.8 acres beyond Greenbriar, but does not have any plans to do anything with it.

Other citizens asked whether the developer could switch plans from apartment buildings to duplexes and four-flats that would be permitted by the present zoning. The mayor replied that present zoning would allow four-flats along Anita St. and duplexes to the east, but that this could not be done unless the developer started all over again with a new application, new plans, and new hearings before the zoning and planning boards.

Hillview

suant to the act. Testimony and documents not before the agency at the time the agency made its decision are irrelevant."

Fourth, the brief points out, "Hillview's proposed expansion of its waste storage facility in excess of two million gallons constitutes a new regional pollution control facility and in particular, a waste storage facility requiring local approval under sections 3 and 39.2 of the (pollution control) act." An earlier court decision defined "the boundary of a 'currently permitted' facility is determined by the length and width allowed in the original permit," and, the IEPA adds, "Hillview has requested lateral extension of its currently permitted waste storage facility."

Fifth, the brief states, "The documentation of ownership or letters of acceptance as is required for all sites which Hillview has designated for sludge utilization was deficient at the close of the record and warranted denial of the application."

The IEPA points out that information provided in a schedule signed by Arnold May represented that no lands for which a permit is required were the subject of a trust, yet a later title search by the Illinois attorney general disclosed that four of the sites were held entirely by trusts, and parts of three others were also in trusts. It adds that even after Hillview amended its representation...the agency determined that there were still questions of ownership."

Sixth, "Evidence and exhibits submitted by citizens and public officials of McHenry county brought into question at the Dec. 11, 1985, hearing: 1) whether 733 acres was representative of the injectable acreage available at Hillview because of the ownership issues of Section V; 2) whether Hillview had properly excluded buffer acreage; and 3) whether Hillview as the result of exclusions because of ownership issues, buffer, excessive slopes, marshy areas and soils with low pH had sufficient available injection sites to apply existing volumes of 22 million gallons of sludge annually."

The IEPA brief explains that "evidence and exhibits provided by citizens and the McHenry County Dept. of Health at the agency hearing created a serious doubt as to whether the 733 acres represented by Hillview in its permit application were all available for injection of sludge."

Seventh, the IEPA states, "Review of soil survey and soil analysis reports disclosed that injection sites had characteristics of steep slopes in excess of 8 percent...areas of poorly drained marshy soils, houghton and lena muck where sludge should not be applied...and sites having soil pH less than 6.5...which if not restricted from sludge application would violate specific provisions of part 391: sludge application regulations."

Eighth, the IEPA challenges the testimony by Dr. Arthur E. Peterson, professor of soil science at the University of Wisconsin college of agriculture and life science and the Wisconsin agriculture experiment station, stating that his "testimony, calculations, and documents failed to dispel the agency's concerns over whether Hillview had sufficient available acreage to apply existing or the proposed increased volumes of sludge."

Ninth, "The agency objects and moves to strike the testimony of Joanne M. May, Ph.D., on numerous grounds of prejudice, conflict of interest and especially because it was not proper rebuttal testimony of her experiences in the record but was an impeachment of all those who testified against Hillview which is not proper subject matter of an expert witness."

The IEPA brief points out that after the Dec. 11, 1985 hearing Joanne M. Pollock, Ph.D., submitted a letter in defense of the Hillview operations and "identified herself as a psychologist working fulltime in a mental health center and teaching psychology in the department of psychology at Loyola University. As a citizen, she identified herself only to be very familiar with Hillview and was appalled when she heard citizen testimony about objectionable odors coming from Hillview."

"Later in this proceeding," the brief continues, "Joanne M. May, Ph.D. appeared with identical credentials and identical address to that of Joanne M. Pollock to impeach citizen testimony under the theories of judgmental heuristics. During her testimony she identified herself as the eldest daughter of Arnold May."

In conclusion the brief states, "Notwithstanding the (IEPA) agency's demonstration that its denial was based on the record of this proceeding, the agency maintains that this permit appeal should be dismissed because the prior filing of the permit application divests the board of authority to rule on this permit appeal. Furthermore petitioner's (Hillview's) endorsement of the agency's denial of additional storage concedes that the agency's determination that the permit if granted would violate the board's rules and the act which are the very ground for the board to deny this permit appeal," adding, "as the record indicates, Hillview's application as of Dec. 11, 1985, was incomplete, inaccurate and misleading."

The IEPA brief concludes, "Despite petitioner's attempt to confuse responsibilities of the agency for permit application review, to invent and impose spurious requirements on the agency, to accuse the agency of improper conduct and to divert attention from the deficiencies in the petitioner's application, the record is clear petitioner's submission for additional waste storage requires local siting approval and petitioner's application for renewal of its permit failed to demonstrate that Hillview would continue its operations in conformance with the act, the board regulations and...sludge application rules."

both Lake and Kenosha Counties are for the most part non-partisan races — or are they?

The old two party system is still present in many cases. Everyone knows that being a Democrat in either of the outlying county locales is tantamount to being a Republican in the City of Chicago or Milwaukee.

And members of the GOP are watched carefully when they invade the inner sanctums of the city bastions.

Politics has always been an enigma as far as I'm concerned. Many people vote for a candidate for the strangest of reasons, which they can always justify at the drop of a questioning hat.

For instance, my Mother still believes every word that the politicians throw at her, ergo, the last candidate she hears speak will be the one that gets her vote.

The experts claim that a well-known name is usually a sure-fire winner as long as that name isn't tainted: knowledge, experience, and capability be damned!

Even that is not always true, how many times have people that have been either accused or convicted of a crime been reelected? And everyone has read at least one story about a dead candidate walking away with an election even though the demise was well publicized beforehand.

The cost of opening and running polls grows each election. It might seem ridiculous to some to open polls when there is only one candidate for each office. I know — I know, there is always the possibility of write-in candidates.

By informing the people through the media, why not set-up some sort of absentee balloting for those who intend to write in the name of someone who has not professed to be running for office?

teresting to say concerning politics and politicians.

Vidal says, "It makes no difference whom you vote for because the two parties are really one party representing 4 percent of the people."

He also has commented that, "there are always too many Democratic Congressmen and too many Republican Congressmen, and not enough U. S. Congressmen."

The validity of these words hits home in the present political climate.

Jeremy Thorpe paraphrased, "Greater love has no man that he lay down his friends for his political life."

As H. L. Menken said, "There are some politicians who, if their constituents were cannibals, would promise them missionaries for dinner." Think! How many political campaigns are filled with promises that are never kept and when the voters are reminded of this during the next campaign, they must swallow all the old promises plus a few new ones because they reelect the same man(or woman).

Those of us in the newspaper business find politicians crawling out of the woodwork at election time, eager to garner our ears, but many are hard to find after election day because as Winston Churchill said, "A politician's idea of an unfair question is one he can't answer."

Actually, governments run by politicians are not governments of the majority of the people when you really get down to it. An elected official is one who gets 51 percent of 40 percent of 60 percent of the registered voters. (An overestimation since many elections draw only 12 percent of the registered voters in a given area.)

Solving Solid Waste Problem Will Require Study

by CHARLES JOHNSTON
Managing Editor

Amid all the sound and fury over proposals by ARF Landfill to expand its Grayslake site and Waste Management of Illinois to create a waste-to-energy plant with associated landfill just up the road is a simple fact that sometimes gets overlooked: Lake County has a waste problem that must be dealt with soon.

The county board sparked a furious outcry when it included the Waste Management landfill and incinerator as part of its settlement of the Heartland lawsuits last October. The fury grew even wilder as, almost simultaneously, ARF Landfill Corp. applied to double the size of its existing sanitary landfill near Grayslake, just north of the proposed Waste Management site.

The way the county board handled the issue was probably more troublesome than the issue of landfills themselves. Between the time of the public announcement and final board approval, scarcely 24 hours passed. The general public had little, if any, time to study the proposal before it officially became the settlement. Although public hearings are being held on Waste Management's proposal, many feel that potential areas of debate could have been avoided with more time for public comment. Board members should have understood that even the best of agreements, if arrived at in secret, arouse deep resentment and suspicion from the general public.

Adding fuel to the fire was the fact that the entire Heartland settlement was made contingent on the successful approval of Waste Management's proposal. Local groups, such as Citizens of Lake County for Environmental Action

Réform (CLEAR) question whether county board members can give an objective hearing on the matter when they are a party to the settlement agreement. William Alter, prominent developer, has land which borders the proposed landfill. He has raised the same question.

In 1983, the county and most of its municipalities formed the Solid Waste Advisory Committee, which has now given way to the Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency. The advisory committee was created in recognition of the fact that Lake County has a serious problem in dealing with its solid municipal wastes (better known as household garbage to most people) over the next several decades. The projected lifespan of Lake County's existing landfills will not provide service into the next century. With aggressive development, service may not be available even in the next decade.

In principle, the Solid Waste Advisory Committee adopted the incineration approach, such as Waste Management has proposed. It extends the lifespan of a landfill because ash is buried instead of raw garbage. Ash is less likely to pose a contamination problem in the soil and water supply. Incineration is an approach that has gained many adherents throughout the country because, when properly done, it is safer, provides energy, and tremendously extends the life of landfills.

All municipalities and the county are eligible members of the Joint Action Solid Waste Planning Agency. The agency is supposed to take responsibility for determining sites and approving plans to deal with the solid waste problem. What has angered many members of the committee is that they perceive the county's action as having bypassed the new agency, thus usurping its function even as it was formed.

Still, the reality is that the ARF expansion and the Waste Management proposal are what must be dealt with now. The question of whether or not the county board acted properly is a political one which voters will be able to decide at the next county board election.

Citizens of Lake County have good reason to be suspect of any plan the county submits, though: the simple truth is that Lake County has not had a good record of protecting its citizens from the ill effects of pollution. Of the 11 most potentially hazardous waste sites in Illinois, according to the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency, three are in Lake County. They are at OMC, Johns-Manville and Wauconda Sand and Gravel. That is more than any other county in the state, including Cook, has.

Landfills and waste disposal, controversial and undesirable as they may be, are not something people can just say no to. Part of the reason Lake County has such a poor record is that its planning on the subject has been deficient. To just say no to the existing proposals without offering alternate acceptable plans is almost certain to make matters worse.

Some have suggested that landfills should be located in less populous McHenry County. The fact is that McHenry residents are no more enthusiastic about becoming Lake County's garbage dump than Lake County residents are about becoming Cook's. That is a plan that avoids the problem rather than dealing with it.

What is clear is that both proposals will have to be judged on their merits. In future additions to this series, Lakeland Newspapers will deal with the records of ARF and Waste Management and details of their proposals.

The ARF hearings are complete, though the public may send written comments to the Lake County Clerk. All comments received by March 9 will become part of the permanent record of the hearings. The regional pollution control hearing committee will consider the full record and make recommendations on March 12. The full county board will act on those recommendations at a special meeting on March 24.

The hearings on Waste Management's proposal are in process right now.

Dangerous Site

Wauconda Sand and Gravel Pit is listed on U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (USEPA) documents as one of 11 most potentially dangerous sites in State of Illinois. Lake County has three of 11 most potentially dangerous sites, more than any other county in state. Site has been accepted as a USEPA superfund priority location. (Source: Illinois Environmental Protection Agency-sites submitted for superfund cleanup.)

Landfill Forum Participants

U.S. Cable television will present a forum program on topic of ARF Landfill's proposed expansion to be aired Feb. 24, 26 and 27. Participants include, back row from left: Bruce Hansen, Dist. 6 County Board Member; John Reindl, Dist. 6 County Board Member; George Ranney, CLEAR member; Dennis Ryan, at-

Conclusions Of Solid Waste Advisory Board

1) The preferred waste disposal system for Lake County consists of: a 1,200 ton per day mass burn incinerator with the sale of steam and electricity or only electricity; transfer stations; a recycling program; and landfilling for non-combustibles.

2) The preferred waste disposal system was based upon an estimate that 1,800 tons of waste are generated in Lake County every day.

3) If there is no change or expansion of the existing solid waste disposal system in Lake County, the landfills in the county will be filled to capacity by 1994 to 1997.

4) With the implementation of the preferred waste disposal system, the need for new landfills will be postponed by approximately five years and the life expectancy of the new landfills will extend over a longer period of time.

5) There are two potentially viable energy markets in Lake County for the steam and electricity produced by the mass burn incinerator: the Great Lakes Naval Training Center and Commonwealth Edison. Both of these have expressed an interest in being potential energy customers.

6) The State's Attorney's office has issued the opinion that Public Act 82-682 (the landfill siting law known as Senate Bill 172) severely restricts the county's authority in the area of landfill and waste facility siting.

7) Citizen participation in the development of the feasibility study was very broad.

Main St. Under Fire

Our concern for the preservation of downtown shopping hubs and main street values is well known to regular readers of this page. We happen to believe that a community with a traditional downtown shopping area and its variety of shops and main street atmosphere is a complete place to live.

As a practical matter, though, it's getting more difficult all the time to keep main street, where it still exists, intact and thriving for a couple of overriding reasons: One, the action for builders and developers is on the edge of town; two, consumers appear to be indifferent to the plight of main street. For the latter reason, public officials lean toward growth and development away from main street. As they say, politicians count votes and main street isn't getting the votes anymore.

For the above reasons, Antioch merchants are girding for a knock down, drag out battle over plans for development of a strip shopping center on the south side of the village. Over the years, they've been pretty successful in thwarting retail development on the edge of town, but this time no one is taking any bets.

It will be interesting to see how the battle goes. The Antioch Zoning Board has called for an impact study to be delivered within 120 days. At least that will allow for a cooling off period.

Abolish 55 Rule

Only a couple of factors stand in the way of abolishment of the outmoded and troublesome 55 m.p.h. speed limit on rural stretches of the interstate highway system. Those are substantial opposition in the U.S. House and the gnawing fact that the 55 m.p.h. limit has saved lives.

We agree with the Senate where it was voted 65-33 to raise the speed limit to 65 m.p.h. in rural areas where the traffic flows freely. This is the area where the accident rate is substantially lower and where most motorists, impatient with the dullness of interstate driving, "are made" into lawbreakers by the 55 m.p.h. law that originally was designed as a conservation device during the Arab oil embargo.

In our opinion, 55 m.p.h. is reasonable and appropriate in urban areas and non-interstates. But driving habits of the public have shown that 55 is not supported on the open interstates by motorists. The unworkable and difficult-to-enforce limit should be abolished.

Foreign Influence

A dramatic increase in foreign investment in American companies has made its mark in Illinois.

Nationally, 1984 employment by foreign affiliates was over twice 1977 employment levels. In Illinois, employment by foreign affiliates increased by 66,400 (90 percent from 1977 to 1984). Total non-agricultural employment increased by 16,800 during the same period.

The impact of increased participation of foreign firms in the state's economy is so far unclear.

There is always the possibility foreign owners might move their operations out of the U.S. to their home nations.

However, proponents of increased foreign involvement in the American economy might contend new technology will spur American business and industry to improve their products in the face of competition. At least that is the theory.

Irish (All Stripes) Gathering To Fete Favorite Saint

by BILL SCHROEDER

If you're Irish (genuine article) or an imposter, mark this date on your calendar. St. Patrick's parade, 2 p.m. March 14.

That will be the local version of St. Paddy's shindigs all over the land with a parade step off at Washington and Genesee Sts. in Waukegan. The line of march will continue to Immaculate Conception Church where ladies of the parish will be serving corned beef and cabbage. There will be an ample supply of appropriate beverages to take away the sting of early spring breezes.

Eddie O'Grady, our favorite bartender and a fixture in arranging suitable recognition of Ireland's favorite saint, promises a good time for all. "You don't have to be Irish to attend," Eddie exclaims assuredly. While O'Grady is making arrangements in the background, ceremonial details will be handled by Chairman Noah Murphy who is lining up other Irish dignitaries like Waukegan Mayor Robert O'Sabonjian, Judge Jack O'Hoogasian and State Atty. Fred Foremanahan.

A grand lady from the Olde Sod will be back as Head Leprechaun—Jessie O'Grady, who turned a spritely 95 on New Years Day. "I'll be out there, all right but I'm going to miss my partner," remarked Mrs. O'Grady, referring to Bob O'Farrel, long-time parade marshal at Lake County St. Patrick's Day observances who now is confined to a rest home. Bob, the former major league catching great, is 85.

As O'Grady put it, "The parade and reception are for both the righthanded and lefthanded Irish." Eddie didn't explain the difference and it really doesn't matter—at least for St. Patrick's Day.

INTEREST MOUNTING—Indications at open meetings point toward genuine interest

Letter To The Editor:

Saga Of Unwanted Dog

Editor:

Time and time again we have seen animals dumped on the side of the road by their supposedly "caring" family. The family hopes someone will take over their responsibility of the pet and look after them. But they have forgotten what a trauma this is to the animal, and what it is like for them to try to find something to eat and drink and a warm place to curl up on a cold night. Or someone to look after them when they need medical attention.

This was some of the feelings of the brown dog that had lived in the area of Deep Lake Rd. and Grand Ave., after being pushed out of a car by some man. This dog had worked hard at surviving on its own. Thank goodness for some thoughtful, caring people that tried to care for the dog from afar. Thanks to the lady that went to that spot every day faithfully for over a year and a half to leave food and who went there in the dark of night to leave a dog house for shelter for this dog.

This dog would not trust anyone after it was dumped, unwanted in this area. On just a couple occasions it seemed to gain some trust, but then some stranger would come in hopes of catching or trapping the dog, only to frighten it once again.

About a week ago, when the lady went to take the food that evening, she found the dog lying on the side of the road, obviously hit by a car.

How very sad for those that cared so much to try to befriend the little brown dog that some irresponsible family cared so little about. This was so unfair to put the dog through such a lonely, frightening existence for such a long period of time.

If you have an animal that you no longer want as a member of your family (that is what they are or should be), show some on the part of the public at hearings on the proposed plan for commuting on the Soo Line.

Further interest was sounded at a meeting Monday night in Grayslake. There are two more meetings in the Lakeland area scheduled by transit officials to gauge public opinion on the Soo Line commuting plan—8 p.m. March 3, Round Lake Beach village hall and 7:30 p.m. March 16 Antioch village hall.

TV APPEARANCE—Chalk up another area resident who is achieving fame in television. Billy Kent of Fox Lake will make his TV debut Wednesday, Feb. 25, in a Magnum, PI episode. Besides acting, Kent is one of the principals in the ownership and operation of Juke Box Saturday Night, popular 50's sports bar on Stanton Point Rd. An interesting sidelight to Kent's role will be an appearance by Frank Sinatra, a "first" for the singer on a regular TV series.

SUPER 4TH—Lake County's biggest July 4 celebration in years, maybe the biggest ever, is taking shape now at Ft. Sheridan, where the gates will be thrown open to everyone to join in a massive Independence Day observance.

Ft. Sheridan's commanding officer, Col. Marshall R. McRee, bubbles over with enthusiasm when he talks about plans for the 4th, which will be a keystone for the venerable military installation's centennial.

"We'll have a big parade and there'll be a community picnic. We'll have the bands playing. There'll be fun for everyone. At night we'll have a big fireworks show," the former artillery officer outlined. Col. McRee stressed that Ft. Sheridan's July 4 event will be an old-fashioned patriotic spectacle.

Sounds like a good place to be July 4.

kindness and compassion for this living creature. Call the animal warden or a humane society, but don't just dump the animal on the side of the road. It may never trust anyone enough to let them help it. Can you live with those thoughts?

The uncaring never have second thoughts over what they have done, but the concerned lose hours of sleep worrying about the well-being of the abandoned pets and how and if they can help.

Thanks to all those that showed concern for the little dog. She won't have to be frightened and lonely any longer.

Questions Consumer Group

Editor:

I was in total agreement with your latest commentary regarding the fairness of the proposed electric rate plan. It would have been good for the public, especially those on fixed incomes, and good for the economy of the state.

The leadership of self-styled and self-serving so-called consumer interest groups more interested in garnering headlines and personal aggrandizement have let their misplaced zealotry befog their judgment and have shot down this very viable plan put forward by the utility.

The groups had better not solicit me for funds. They don't speak for this consumer.

I note with some alarm that the leader and spokesman of the most vocal group in shooting down the plan is an attorney. I wonder, who serves who?

Warren Aims For Second, Sequoits For Momentum

Two teams who won two games last week will meet Feb. 21 at the College of Lake County.

The game between Warren and Antioch, with a 7:30 p.m. start at the College of Lake County, is Lakeland Newspapers' Game of the Week.

For Warren, the contest will be a chance to gain a strong foothold on second place in the North Suburban Conference. The Blue Devils, though, must first tangle with North Suburban Conference champions Lake Forest Feb. 20.

Antioch, which struggled through most of the season, now has won two straight and four of five. The Sequoits play at Zion-Benton Feb. 19.

Both Warren coach Darrel Bader and Antioch's Don Zeman came away with smiles last week.

"I thought we were much improved. We had only 18 turnovers for the two games and we shot right around 50 percent from the field in both games," Bader said.

Warren beat Fenton 53-42 and Zion-Benton 47-45 last week.

Against Zion, the Blue Devils needed every one of Brian Jarrell's eight fourth-quarter free throws to ice the home win.

Warren led 15-6 after one, but Zion began chipping away in the second quarter.

a 63-55 win over Fenton. The wins improved Antioch to 6-16 overall, 5-10 in the NSC.

Against Libertyville, Antioch overcame a four-point deficit after one to take

Game Of The Week

The Zee-Bees won each of the next three quarters but that was not enough to overcome Warren's lead.

Jarrell finished with 24 points for the night and was the only Warren player in double digits.

Lake Forest edged Warren at CLC in the first round, overcoming a large first-half deficit.

"Their defensive pressure hurt us in the first game," Bader said.

Antioch, meanwhile, may use its newfound rebounding skills in its game against Zion.

"They're going to have some quickness but we should matchup with them in size," Zeman said of Zion.

Antioch is coming off a 56-55 win over Libertyville and a 25-23 halftime lead. Antioch's lead shrunk in the second half as Libertyville rallied and the Wildcats had the advantage with just 1:54 left.

But the Sequoits' Scott Frash hit a jumper with :33 left for the winning basket.

Against Fenton, Tom Wells's hot shooting paved the way for Antioch. Wells made 13-for-21 shots from the field, scoring 27 points.

Zeman praised the rebounding efforts of John Mehnert, who had 14 rebounds.

In fact, it has been Mehnert's play and that of sixth man Wade Kilman which has sparked Antioch as of late, Zeman said.

regionals," Rowden said.

Grant's John Bakis missed the coveted state meet trip when he finished fourth at 145 pounds.

Johnsburg advanced two wrestlers to the state meet. Kegel beat Jason Neumark of Deerfield 7-2 for the championship at 98 pounds. Mike Lewis was third at 105.

Area wrestlers finishing fourth were: Dan Torres of Wauconda at heavyweight and Jeff Chumbley of Warren at 126.

CLC Hoops Teams Split League Tilts With Wright

The College of Lake County's basketball teams split a pair of games with visiting Wright College Feb. 10.

The men entered the game one game behind Wright (now 10-2 in the Skyway Conference) with intentions of sweeping the Rams in the season series. The Rams, however, wanted to avenge their earlier two-point loss to CLC and a that's exactly what happened, as Wright won 71-69.

The men host Oakton in their last home game Feb. 19 at 7 p.m.

Wright took command early against CLC.

The Lancers appeared intimidated, turning the ball over several times, allowing the visitors to jump to an early 10-2 lead. The Rams held a six to 10 point lead for a good 10 minutes, but Lake County surged back. CLC cut the lead to 27-24 with under six minutes left in the half, but Wright pulled together another spurt before the intermission, taking a 36-29 edge.

The Lancers started the second half with hopes of putting together another one of their second half explosions, but the Rams were there to answer as they jumped out to a double-digit lead midway through the second half. Lake County, which never saw the lead, didn't put together a spurt until late in the game.

With the score 60-47 Wright, CLC proceeded to outscore Wright 20-8. With :42 remaining, Lancer Terry Wright sank two free throws to cap CLC's comeback. The Rams' Mike Patterson hit two key free throws with under :35 left, upping the lead to three at 70-67. The Lancers closed the margin to one following two free throws by Don Gunther with five seconds left. CLC was then forced to foul, and the Rams hit one of two shots at the line, preserving their triumph.

With the loss, the Lancer fell to second place in the conference with an 8-4 mark, 16-11 overall.

David Tucker popped in 20 points, Gunther 17 and Dave Sitz 15. Wright's Andre Tyler led all scorers with 23 points.

In the preliminary game, CLC's Lady Lancers chilled the visiting Rams, a la Karen Hermann. Hermann, a first-year forward, pumped in a season and game high 35 points as the Lancers routed the Lady Rams, 65-35. Wright's closest deficit was 2-0 in the opening minutes, as Hermann and the gang took charge. CLC led 34-22 and Hermann scored 22 of those 34 points. Liz Steiding and Kelly Halkyard finished the game with eight and six points, respectively.

Lake County outscored Wright 31-13 in the second half to cruise to the win.

The win upped CLC's record to 9-3 in the Skyway Conference, 11-10 overall.

CLC now looks forward to sectionals after their last home game against Oakton Feb. 19 at 5 p.m.

"We're going to have to work real hard because McHenry is our first opponent in the postseason and they are usually a tough outfit," CLC coach Chuck Schramm said.

Carmel Faces Challenge To Continue Win Streak

The first time Carmel played East Suburban Catholic Conference leader St. Joseph, the Corsairs played close to the state-ranked team for three quarters.

But a fourth-quarter spree by St. Joseph turned the game into a 12-point win. Carmel coach Frank Belmont believes his team has to stay even with St. Joseph if the result is to change Feb. 20. After playing St. Joseph, Carmel hosts Mt. Carmel Feb. 21.

"You have to stay close to St. Joseph. You have to avoid a situation where they score six or eight points in a row. They are just too good a team to come back on," Belmont said.

Belmont said the away game will be a tournament-tester for the Corsairs. The Corsairs, coming off a 54-40 win at Notre Dame last week, have won five of their last six and have gained a tie for second in the ESCC with St. Patrick.

"We're in a tie for second now and we can decide our own fate. This will be a great game to prepare us for the tournament," Belmont said.

Carmel's win over Notre Dame improved its record to 14-8 overall, 9-3 in ESCC play.

Notre Dame, last in the league, attempted to slow the game down early. Notre Dame took just seven shots in the first half and the hosts had led 6-5 after one.

Carmel, trailing 19-14, staged a six-point rally which gained the visitors a 20-19 halftime lead. Carmel credited the play of reserves Tom Johnson, Aubrey O'Bryant and Steve Bruns as keys in the first half.

"They were really effective when we had foul trouble in the first half," Belmont said.

Carmel was able to open up its offense in the third quarter, extending its lead to 36-29.

Rob Graham led Carmel with 21 points, John Welling had 12 and Scott Stahoviak 11 in Carmel's balanced attack.

Carmel shot better than 50 percent from the field and made 16-for-22 from the free-throw line.

Powerhouse Grant Now 'Complete Team': Maple

This may come as a shock to those teams who have been victimized by Grant as the Bulldogs rolled to 20 victories so far this year.

Coach Tom Maple now believes his squad is complete.

That's right, the Bulldogs appear to be more potent than ever. Sure, they still have the inside attack of Don Kiesgan and Ron Richford, but Grant's guards - Mike McDonald and Mike Kazlauskys - are getting in the scoring column more.

"Our guards have been playing better and now we're a complete ballclub. We've always been a good ballclub, but now we're a complete ballclub," Maplesaid.

McDonald and Kazlauskys' scoring were the main punches as Grant rolled to wins No. 19 and No. 20 over Marengo and Grayslake last week. McDonald scored 21 points against Marengo in Grant's 62-48 win against the league's second place team and 12 against Grayslake in a 71-44 romp. Kazlauskys, meanwhile, contributed a workmanlike eight points against Marengo and broke into double-digits against Grayslake, scoring 12.

Maple said his team had set 20 wins as a team goal when practice started in November, but admitted he was surprised that the team earned the coveted mark so early.

The impressive mark, 20-2 overall, 11-0 in league play, means Grant entered this week's games with an opportunity to lock up a league championship for the first time since 1981-82. Grant hosts lowly Wauconda Feb. 20.

"Winning the conference would allow us to sit back and relax and prepare for regionals. Ever since we started to play well, every game has been a pressure game for the players,"

Maple said.

Against Marengo, Grant used strong second and third quarters to beat the Indians for the second time this season. Grant led 16-11 after one and never looked back. Marengo tried to rally in the fourth quarter, but Grant pulled away in the final minutes.

had 29 points for the winners and Bob Akers had 15.

"I thought overall, we played well after three tough conference losses," Ward said.

The Wauconda win improved Round Lake's record to 12-9 overall, 5-6 in league play.

Earlier, Round Lake had

NWSC Roundup

Richford had 18 points to compliment McDonald's hot outside shooting.

In Grayslake, the Bulldogs were facing a team that played it closed for 33 minutes the first time around before losing. Grant, though, was just too much for the undermanned Rams this time out. After a 12-10 first-quarter lead, Grant put the game away with an 18-7 dominance in the second period.

Kazlauskys and McDonald combined for 24 points from the guard spot. Richford also had 12 and Kiesgan 10.

Pat LuPori led Grayslake with 11 points.

The Rams will be hoping to get back into the win column when they face Johnsbury in an away game Feb. 19.

Grayslake trails Johnsbury by one game heading into this week's action for fifth place. Johnsbury lost a close 56-53 decision to Marengo last week.

Round Lake coach Bob Ward, meanwhile, is probably happy his Panthers are finished with the league's top teams - Grant, Lake Zurich and Marengo for the regular season. Round Lake lost to the three teams six times, but bounced back from the latest defeat to thump Wauconda.

Round Lake won handily 80-45, jumping out to a 22-9 lead after one quarter and not looking back. Jim Bills suffered a tough 62-60 overtime loss to Lake Zurich. In that game, Round Lake won the fourth quarter 18-13 to force the overtime but the Bears prevailed in the extra session 4-2.

Gymnast Nets Best

Chris Pekelsma of Third Lake is contributing to the success of the Winona State University gymnastics team.

Pekelsma, a senior, earned a second on the vault with a career best 8.9 in the Warriors' last meet.

Winona beat the University of Wisconsin-La Crosse Roones 134.95-127.30 to up their dual meet record to 4-0.

Up For Two

Antioch's Paul Anderson goes up for two in North Suburban Conference action. Antioch travels to Zion-Benton Feb. 20 and Warren Feb. 21.

Hungry

To satisfy its huge appetite, the elephant spends up to 18 hours a day eating.

Kessel: Mustangs Must Pull Together

As far as Dennis Kessel is concerned, Mundelein's second season started shortly after Lake Forest crunched the Mustangs 81-59 to wrap up the North Suburban Conference title last week.

"We're going to approach the final week as though it is Nov. 10 and we are starting all over again," Kessel said.

Internal team problems coupled with going up against the NSC's top club made it a rough week for Mundelein, now 8-14 overall and 6-9 in league play. Kessel is hoping the second season starts out on the right foot for Mundelein when the Mustangs travel to Libertyville Feb. 20, a team that Mundelein beat in round one. The Mustangs then host North Chicago Feb. 21 before closing out the regular season at Fenton Feb. 24.

"Friday night's game will be a big test for us. We will see if we can pull together as a team. Sometimes you have to hit rock bottom before you pull together," Kessel said.

The "rock bottom" Kessel was referring to came when he benched season-long starters Joe Wiener and Jeff Geary for the first half of the Lake Forest game. Kessel said the benching was due to "violation of a team rule".

Kessel said he hopes positives will come from the incident.

"I hope we grew up as a team tonight," Kessel said.

The absence of Wiener and Geary may not have provided enough for the final outcome, but the first half probably would have had more Mundelein offense. Going with a small lineup against Lake Forest's tall rebounders, Mundelein could manage few offensive rebounds and only three first-half baskets.

Still, the hosts stayed reatively even with the league champs through the first 12 minutes or so of the first half. Five-of-six free-throw shooting by Mundelein's J. T. Mathwig (the team's leading scorer with 15 points) help keep the first quarter deficit down to 16-10.

Lake Forest exploded in the second quarter, though, holding Mundelein without a basket until Dave Sundall sank one at the buzzer. Kessel said it was a stretch in the second quarter which nailed Mundelein's fate.

"We had four good chances to cut the lead to eight, but we missed them and they got it up to 14," Kessel said.

Lake Forest, now 20-2 overall and a perfect 15-0 in NSC play, led 37-20 at halftime and 63-35 after three. Lake Forest coach Tom Meyers pulled his starters halfway through the third quarter.

Warren, Antioch Win Regional Titles

Balance Paces Warren

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

When Warren Twp. High school students return to their spanking-new Gurnee campus in the fall, there will be something new in the sports trophy case as well.

A polished looking, bright trophy proudly declaring the Blue Devils' girls basketball team as 1987 regional champions at Waukegan West will be available for all to admire.

Warren's girls team has been waiting longer for the coveted trophy than the rest of the student body has been waiting for its return to Gurnee. Warren's 61-54 upset win over Waukegan West Feb. 13 propelled the Devils to this week's Round Lake sectional - Warren's first sectional appearance in the sectional round.

"We'd always get to the regional final but lose," Warren coach Bruce Campbell said as his team celebrated.

Warren's win over the Raiders provided the Blue Devils with sweet revenge. Waukegan West eliminated Warren in overtime last year in the first regional game.

Campbell said his team, 18-8 going into the sectional action, has regained the intensity it enjoyed at the start of the year.

"In the two games in the regional, we played like we did at the start of the season. We had a stretch at the end of January, where we did not play well," he said.

Campbell's team used an effective balanced scoring attack to knock off the Raiders and their one-dimensional offense of Jackie Ray. Ray scored 27 points, but 20 came in the first half.

Warren, meanwhile, had four players in double figures. Senior Lisa Gowe had 18 points to lead the way while Crystal Cobb had 14, Tiffany Holmes 12 and Terri Ingalls 10.

"The seniors did a real good job. That was Tiffany's best game," Campbell said.

Warren jumped off to a 20-14 lead after one, getting the ball inside and capitalizing on fast-break opportunities. Ray had 10 of her team's 14 points.

Waukegan West closed the gap in the second quarter and tied the game at 24 all on a Ray basket.

Warren then went on a key 10-2 spree, getting two hoops from Cobb and one each from Gowe, Dawn Bendery and Holmes for a 34-26 halftime lead.

It looked as though Warren's lead could be in jeopardy early in the final quarter, as Warren committed six turnovers in the first seven minutes.

But free-throw shooting, a year-long dilemma for Warren, suddenly became a saving grace in the final seconds.

Cobb converted on two chances for a 58-52 lead with 2:34 to go. Jenny Marker, who had not scored a point in the game, hit one of two for a 59-54 lead with :34 left. Ingalls iced the win with two free throws with six seconds left.

Sequoits Discover Magic

February madness?

As far as Antioch and Warren's girls teams are concerned, the change to an early tournament is just fine.

That's because the Sequoits and the Blue Devils had all the right ingredients in their two regionals - Warren winning at Waukegan West and Antioch taking home the Grayslake title.

OVERTIME

By Steve Peterson

Both teams advanced to this week's Round Lake Sectional. Round Lake's sectional final is Feb. 19 with the winner advancing to the Dundee-Crown Supersectional.

"We believe we can play with anybody," Antioch coach Harold Abramson said after the Sequoits destroyed Grant 76-55.

The Sequoits appear to have regained their early-season form. They came into the Grayslake tournament winning their last two of three North Suburban Conference games and by winning handily in the two regional tilts, have now won four of five.

"We're playing more like we did at the start of the season. We had an 88-point game in a tournament. Then we had a mid-season slump for six or seven games but now the kids are starting to play better," Abramson said.

Abramson said his team values its senior leadership of high scorer Julie Sexton, Linda Sexton and Debbie Sigler. The trio had 19, 18 and 19 points respectively in the game against the Bulldogs.

"Julie has been on the varsity for four years, Debbie and Linda have played for three years. They've done real well," Abramson said.

Grant came out in the regional final like it had upset on its mind. Playing one of its best quarters of the year, Grant led 22-18 after one. Kathy Loring, who led Grant with 22 points, scored eight in the first eight minutes.

But when the second quarter started, Grant's season all but ended.

"We had a poor second quarter. We just did not run our offense well tonight. We tried to run with them and gave them too many fast-break baskets," Grant coach Sue Richardson said.

Grant committed eight turnovers in the pivotal second quarter - 13 for the first half. Antioch ran up a 20-4 romp in the second period to take a commanding 38-26 lead at halftime.

Still, the season can be considered a success for the Bulldogs. Richardson's team finished at 13-12, its first winning season in at least five years. Grant was 11-3 in Northwest Suburban Conference play, finishing second in the league.

Coxon Scores 500th Point, But Grant Ousts Grayslake

by STEVE PETERSON
Sports Editor

It was just seconds after Grayslake's girls basketball team's season had ended.

The Rams lost a heartbreaker, 49-48 to Grant in the opening round of their own regional. Lisa Coxon, the Rams' leading all-time scorer, sat alone on the team's bench. Coxon had played her last high school basketball game.

"She's taking it pretty hard," Grayslake coach Brad Larson said.

Earlier, Coxon had eclipsed the 500 point total for the season, scoring on a baseline jumper in the second quarter. Coxon finished with 17 points on the night and 515 for the year. All told, Coxon has scored 900 points the last two years for the Rams.

Opposing coaches know if you are going to stop Grayslake, then you will have to stop Coxon.

"To beat Grayslake, you have to stop Lisa Coxon," Grant coach Sue Richardson said.

When Coxon scored point No. 500, the game was going in the hosts favor. Grayslake's 1-3-1 zone was giving Grant fits, as the Bulldogs could not get the ball inside.

Grayslake, taking advantage of six turnovers by Grant in the second quarter, led 31-18 at halftime.

But Grant made enough adjustments in the second half to prevail. The Bulldogs were led by Kerry Wilson, one of two seniors on the squad, who scored 26 points.

Grant trimmed Grayslake's lead to 37-33 after three. Grant gained a 43-42 lead when Wilson tapped home a miss with 3:03 left in the game.

Grant opened up a four-point cushion when Chris Bochniak scored on a fastbreak layup with 58 seconds left, making it 47-43. Coxon, who was 11-for-20 from the free-throw line, made two to trim the margin to two with :14 left.

A Bochniak free throw with :12 iced the win for the Bulldogs.

Grayslake, which finished the year at 11-14, scored with :6 on a hoop by Aaron Stey.

Although it was her final high school game, Larson said Coxon will likely be get offers to play college ball.

"She's a very coachable kid. She'll do anything you ask," Larson said.

Coxon, in her senior season, was an all-Northwest Suburban Conference unanimous pick, leading the league in points scored.

"She's a heckuva player. I've seen Jackie Ray of Waukegan West and she matches up with Ray well. I've enjoyed coaching her," Larson said.

Also playing in their last game for Grayslake were seniors Lisa Richardson and Diane Cesaroni.

"Coxon, Richardson and Cesaroni have scored 1,900 points over the past two years. They've been super players and I really appreciate it," Larson said.

In the other first round game, Antioch had little trouble against Round Lake, winning 54-34.

The Sequoits struggled early, but gained a 12-6 lead after one.

Then they exploded for 23 points in the second quarter, putting the game away with a 35-17 halftime lead. They did with defense, as three starters were out with foul trouble.

"Our bench plays fairly well. We can go eight or nine deep. The bench players are more defensive oriented," Antioch coach Harold Abramson said.

Kristin Morgan led Antioch with 15 points while Debbie Sigler had 10.

Dawn Steger score 19 for the Panthers in the losing cause.

Antioch enjoyed a 37-26 rebounding edge, including 18 on the offensive end. Antioch made 21-for-56 shots from the field.

Elsewhere in girls tournaments, Wauconda had its season ended by Fox Valley Conference champion Cary-Grove 54-34. Carmel beat host Mundelein 68-56 but lost to Cary-Grove in the regional final 63-41.

American Bald Eagles Winter At Reelfoot Lake

The swallows return to Capistrano, the buzzards to Hinckley, Ohio, and the eagles to Tennessee's Reelfoot Lake.

Each year a hundred or more majestic American bald eagles, with wingspans of six to eight feet and weighing as much as 16 pounds, follow the wind currents south from their summer homes around the Great Lakes and in Canada to spend the winter months near the warmer, ice-free waters of northwestern Tennessee.

The eagles are among thousands of migrating birds—ducks, Canada geese, coots and an occasional loon—spending much of the winter in this strangely beautiful and peaceful place.

The large number of eagles at Reelfoot has made "eagle-watching" a major winter activity for thousands of visitors, a fact which has led the Tennessee Dept. of Conservation to establish an extensive eagle-watching program at Reelfoot Lake State Resort Park.

"The interest in the eagles gets bigger every year," says park superintendent Ralph Burrus. "Last year the park hosted more than 12,000 people during the eagle season which generally lasts until mid-March when the eagles fly north again. During the winter months, Reelfoot Lake has perhaps the highest concentration of bald eagles east of the Mississippi River."

For the eagles, the chief attraction is fish.

Reelfoot Lake has long been known as one of the world's greatest natural fish hatcheries and commercial fishing on the shallow lake is extensive.

"Eagles are usually very shy birds," Burrus says,

"but they have come to recognize some of the commercial fishermen. When they cast their nets, the eagles will sometimes actually hover around the boats waiting for them to discard the fish they can't use. If there is a stranger on the boat, though—someone the eagles don't recognize—they usually won't come anywhere close. It's as if the eagles know who they can trust."

Airpark Inn, Reelfoot's small resort hotel and restaurant built on pilings out into the shallow lake, is a prime eagle-watching area, and the originating point for guided bus tours conducted by state park naturalists. The tours begin daily at 10 a.m. and visitors are urged to make advance reservations by calling (901) 253-7756. There is a 50 cent charge and visitors are urged to dress warmly and bring binoculars, telescopes and telephoto lenses for their cameras.

"For most people there is a temptation to get as close as possible for that really great photograph," Burrus explains. "The eagle usually gets spooked and flies off, and the photographer not only misses his picture, he also risks a federal charge of harassment."

The federal laws protecting an endangered species are strict. The maximum punishment for killing or molesting an eagle, carries a $5,000 fine and the possibility of a one-year prison sentence.

The park's eagle program also includes orientation sessions on Friday and Saturday nights at Airpark Inn. The programs, which feature guest speakers and films, also give visitors an insight into the unique history and biology of Reelfoot Lake.

"The lake was created by earthquakes during the winter of 1811 and 1812," Burrus explains. "The tremors climaxed on Feb. 7, 1812, with what was probably the most violent earthquake ever to strike the North American continent. This whole land area in northwestern Tennessee sank as much as 20 feet. There were tidal waves on the Mississippi River, and the river flowed backward to fill the depression we know today as Reelfoot Lake."

The National Wildlife Refuge headquarters, located off State Hwy. 22 on the eastern side of the lake, features a small museum with excellent exhibits of the Reelfoot wildlife and refuge officials will conduct tours for groups with advance notice. The refuge headquarters may be contacted by calling (901) 538-2481.

For more information about Reelfoot Lake and northwestern Tennessee, contact the Tennessee Dept. of Tourist Development, Room T, Box 23170, Nashville, Tennessee 37202; or phone (615) 741-7994.

VIDEO SCENE

Bruce Springsteen's 'Fire' clip burns with raw energy

By Barton Weiss

Among many other things, Bruce Springsteen has been credited with re-defining and bringing back the ballad as viable pop-music form, and "Fire," a Springsteen composition that was a major hit for the Pointer Sisters a few years back, is one of Springsteen's best.

Bruce Springsteen

Video viewers currently are being treated to a live Springsteen version of "Fire." And what a live video!

Springsteen is in top form. Instead of using the full band, he goes acoustic, using two guitars and — the brilliant stroke — an accordion. The accordion doesn't sound that different from an electronic keyboard, but its presence ties the song to the balladeer tradition.

Then there's Springsteen's performance itself. This is the best he's ever been on videotape. The clip has passion, control and raw sex appeal. What else could you ask for in three minutes?

From the movies
Most movie music videos miss their mark because they don't quite understand the energy and language of clipdom. But the video from "Little Shop of Horrors" is different.

In a sense, the entire movie is an elaborate music video, and this is especially true of the song they chose for video form — "Dentist," with Steve Martin. If they simply had lifted it right out of the film, it would have been far superior to the average video. But it is made even better by a few added snippets from the film.

Martin is wonderful as a sadistic dentist, and there's a nifty shot from inside a mouth.

Sophistication

Natt Johnson, who has been going by the generic name The The, is one of those artists who does just about everything. He has made a clip for every song from his latest album, "Infected." The result, "Infected: The Movie," which has not yet been released as a home video but presumably will be, is one of the most sophisticated music-video compilations ever. Instead of showing us how tough it is to be a rock star (the theme of most long-form videos), Johnson deals with subtle political issues that are usually neglected by the medium.

Each clip is stylistically different (Johnson used several different directors), but the intensity is there throughout, and Johnson's acting holds up.

RADIO DAYS (PG-Orion) Starring Mia Farrow, Julie Kavner, Michael Tucker, Diane Weist. ★ ★ ★ ½ ★

By J.T. YURKO

Woody Allen's roots have been the direct source of much of his humor. In "Annie Hall," for instance, Allen (or Allen's character) visits the house where he was raised, which he swears was situated directly under the tracks of the Coney Island roller coaster. Poor, frumpy and Jewish, the family consisted of a mother and father locked in an incessant argument and a short, red-haired boy reading books about death and trying to discover the joys of sex.

"Hannah and Her Sisters" was something of a turning point for Allen. By the end of the film, Allen actually resolved some of his neuroses. Thinking he was going to die, he came face to face with life, and emerged a happily married man with a child on the way. "Good heavens," said Allen fans, "now that he's happy, what will he make films about?"

Allen has chosen to return to his childhood. He uses the golden days of radio as a metaphor and memory stimulus in "Radio Days."

Allen narrates the film, but the Allen persona is played by Seth Green, a young red-haired boy.

Like memory images that often flash randomly into mind, Allen presents a mosaic of places, characters and stories with no single narrative thread. It's a combination of tales of the family household, with Julie Kavner playing the mother and Michael Tucker playing the father, and the radio world.

The characters of the radio world include Mia Farrow as a cigarette girl trying to break into radio and Wallace Shawn, who doesn't bear the slightest resemblance to Christopher Reeve, as "The Masked Avenger." Such possibilities existed only in radio, where the imagination reigned supreme and something as potentially absurd as a ventriloquist on the radio was the top show for years.

Then there's music, music, with enough Tommy Dorsey, Glenn Miller and Big Band music to bring waves of nostalgia to anyone who lived through those times. This is Allen's own "Brighton Beach Memoirs" — a marvelously witty look at a time gone by.

Lakeland's Tax Guide, Seminar Offer Help

This week, to help taxpayers get through the maze of new regulations in the federal tax laws, Lakeland Newspapers is publishing a 12-page tax guide.

While the impact of tax reform legislation will not be felt until next year's returns are filled out, taxpayers will have to start planning now to avoid being caught by surprise.

In addition to the tax guide being published this week, the Lakeland group of newspapers, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, will host a seminar on federal income taxes on Wednesday, Feb. 25, starting at 7 p.m. in a seminar room at the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

Open to all interested parties, IRS Agent Sallie Goding will speak for about an hour and a half before opening up the floor to questions from the audience.

"The changes will affect almost everyone," she said. "The new law abolishes the deduction for a married couple when both work. Rules for IRAs have changed drastically and there are many changes in itemized deductions."

While Goding said she would not be giving advice on tax planning, she said she would give information on what has changed and how it will affect taxpayers. She will offer advice on how to fill out the new W-4 Forms.

Goding has been a revenue agent out of the Schaumburg office since 1980. She works in auditing of large companies and is a certified public accountant.

"Even though I will be giving my presentation for the first hour and a half, I make room in that for individual questions when a point is not clear. For individuals who have questions beyond what will be discussed in the regular session, I will stay after and discuss it with them individually," she said.

Lakeland Publisher William H. Schroeder noted that the public does not often have the chance to speak to an IRS agent in a give and take situation. "This seminar will give people that opportunity," he said.

This is the second year that Lakeland has sponsored the program as a public service to its readers and other interested persons. Admission is free.

Lakeland believes that this public service is of vital interest to all taxpayers. With the success of last year's program, Schroeder plans to make tax assistance guides and seminars an annual public service to the paper's readers.

Planning Tax Assistance

IRS Agent Sallie Goding and Lakeland Newspapers' marketing director William M. Schroeder plan jointly-sponsored tax seminar to be held at College of Lake County at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Feb. 25. Public is invited to attend. Admission is free.

Quarterly Taxes Due April 15 Also

The first installment of 1987 estimated federal income tax payments by individuals other than farmers and fishermen is due by April 15, 1987.

Generally, taxpayers must pay estimated tax if they expect to owe, after withholding and credits, at least $500 in tax for 1987, and they expect their withholding to be less than the lesser of:

-90 percent of the tax shown on their 1987 tax return; or

-100 percent of the tax shown on their 1986 tax return.

Form 1040-ES, Estimated Tax for Individuals, must be filed.

Single social security recipients whose total income for 1987, including half of their social security income, is expected to be more than $25,000 and married social security recipients who expect their joint income, including half of the social security income, to exceed $32,000 may have to pay tax on part of their social security income. Therefore, they may need to file and pay estimated tax.

The Form 1040-ES package, containing instructions, a tax worksheet and four payment vouchers, will be sent to those taxpayers who filed estimated tax last year. Also, 1040-ES forms are stocked at some local IRS offices.

The IRS also has a free reference Publication 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax, which provides information about paying estimated tax. The publication may be ordered using the handy order form in the tax forms package or by calling the IRS toll-free number.

If you've got tax questions, you can get the answers by calling the IRS Tele-Tax service, a recorded information service on about 150 topics.

Tax Law Changes Tarnish Luster Of IRAs For Some

by PETER SCHATZ
Transamerica Life Companies

He or she who hesitates will definitely lose out this tax season in the individual retirement plan arena.

Once heralded as one of the most innovative retirement planning tools of the 1980s, IRAs are undergoing a transformation of sorts that may make them less attractive to you in the future. But all IRA advantages will remain intact on your 1986 tax return. And despite frequent talk of the IRA's demise, the reshaped IRA will still offer some excellent financial planning opportunities in the years that follow.

To better understand the pros and cons of the IRA situation, let's take a brief look at its short history. Government statistics indicate that more than 35 million households have accumulated $260 billion in IRAs since they were made available to all wage earners only five years ago. But that figure is not surprising considering why access to them was expanded in 1981.

The principle behind the expansion of IRA availability was to allow every working person to take an immediate income tax deduction of up to $2,000 annually or $2,250 for couples with one non-working spouse. At the same time, the interest on these accounts was to accumulate tax deferred until withdrawn.

But 1986 is the last tax year the description of an IRA will be as simple and as unquestionably appealing. The tax legislation that President Reagan signed in October contains some definite restrictions about who can take the fullest advantage of the IRA tax break.

On the positive side, all working people may continue to contribute up to $2,000 annually or $2,250 for spousal IRAs. Additionally, the $2,000 ($2,250 for spousal IRAs) deduction is retained for all employees who do not actively participate in a qualified retirement, Simplified Employee Pension (SEP), 403(b) or government plan. Likewise, employees who are covered by one of these plans but have adjusted gross incomes of less than $25,000 on single returns and $40,000 on joint returns also retain their full deduction privileges.

Partial deductions determined on a pro rata basis will be allowed for individuals covered by a retirement plan who earn between $25,000 and $35,000, and those filing joint returns with income between $40,000 and $50,000. A married worker with an adjusted gross income of $45,000, for instance, would be limited to a deduction of $1,000. Covered individuals and couples who earn more than $35,000 or $50,000 respectively and are active participants, would be allowed to contribute to an IRA up to the permitted amounts, but not on a tax deductible basis.

So what are your best moves if the full IRA deduction is moving far away from your reach?

To start with, if you do not have an IRA yet, hurry up and fill out an application for one while the deduction potential is optimal. And if you do have one, plan on making the maximum contribution to it by April 15, 1987.

As far as 1987 and the years beyond that are concerned, most financial planners agree that you should continue to make the maximum contribution to your IRA for two striking reasons. The first is the fact that IRA earnings remain tax deferred. This is extremely beneficial because the base on which your yield is compounded will not be reduced over the years by any taxes. For example, if you open a $2,000 IRA tomorrow that earns eight percent annually, you would have $9,332 in 20 years. But, if the government took 28 percent in taxes away from you each year, your investment would be worth only about $6,130. In order to simplify the example, the tax which would be due on the final sums has been ignored. But as you can see, you can accumulate quite a bit more, quite a bit faster on a tax-deferred basis.

The second is an observation by financial planners that most people included in retirement plans have a substantial need for supplementary retirement savings. In fact, nearly half of the 38 million employees covered by pension plans were not vested at the close of 1986. Since many workers leave their jobs long before becoming vested, IRAs could prove to be an excellent source for retirement dollars.

And there are still other advantages. IRAs also will become a more powerful magnet for lump-sum distributions from company pension or profit-sharing plans. Many times, when an employee leaves or retires from a corporation, he or she receives a single check for the pension dollars which have accumulated. Prior to tax reform, these distributions may have qualified for 10-year forward averaging. Under this method, you paid tax at a much lower rate. However, the 10-year forward averaging opportunity remains for only those who turned 50 years old before Jan. 1, 1986. It was replaced with five-year averaging, which is generally less favorable. In addition, favorable capital gains treatment which was previously available will be phased out. So most employees younger than that would be wise to rollover their lump sums into IRAs to avoid paying taxes.

So as you can see, IRAs remain an attractive savings vehicle. Although they may not remain everybody's favorite tax break, they still have the potential to insure that our retirement years are characterized by financial health and well-being.

Deduction For Working Couples

Married couples who both work are eligible for a special deduction of as much as $3,000 on 1986 federal tax returns. This deduction may be claimed on either Form 1040 or 1040A as a subtraction from gross income.

The deduction is limited to 10 percent of the qualified earned income of the lesser-earning spouse. However, the maximum allowed is 10 percent of up to $30,000 for a deduction of $3,000. To take the deduction, both spouses must have earned income, such as wages, salaries and tips. However, income earned by one spouse working for another does not qualify; nor does such income as interest, dividends, pensions, annuities, IRA distributions, unemployment compensation, deferred compensation or nontaxable income.

More complete information is contained in the tax forms instructions for Forms 1040 and 1040A.

Interest On U.S. Bonds Taxable

Interest on U.S. Savings Bonds is taxable income and must be reported on federal income tax returns.

Taxpayers must report the interest from Series E and EE bonds in one of two ways: annually, as it accrues, or when the bond is cashed or reaches final maturity.

In the case of Series H and HH Bonds, however, interest payments are made twice a year and must be reported in the year received.

Those taxpayers who buy U.S. Savings Bonds as co-owners with their children are liable for the tax on the interest earned on the bonds. Interest on U.S. Savings Bonds bought in the name of a child is income to the child, even if the taxpayer pays for them and is named as beneficiary.

Tax Return Copies Are Useful Records

Copies of federal income tax returns from prior years not only serve as good financial records, but they can serve as guidelines for filling out future returns as well, the Internal Revenue Service says.

A good deal of information may be utilized from old copies, especially for those taxpayers whose financial situations stay almost the same from year to year, according to the IRS.

Being able to refer to completed returns could also be helpful to those who might later wish to amend their returns, income average, or who are called in for a tax examination. Taxpayers finding themselves in any of these situations will be glad they retained a copy of their return.

Requesting copies of prior returns can be very time consuming and costly, depending on the contents of the documents requested.

Taxpayers May Extend Deadline For Filing

Preparing an income tax return can require a multitude of information papers such as cancelled checks, receipts, and proof of earnings and expenses. Sometimes copies of certain information papers must be obtained and are not received in time to prepare the return and meet the filing deadline.

Form 1040 or 1040A filers can request an automatic four-month extension of time to file their tax returns, the Internal Revenue Service says.

However, the IRS adds that this is not an extension to pay taxes owed.

To obtain the four-month extension beyond April 15, 1987, a taxpayer must complete Form 4868, Application for Automatic Extension of Time To File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return, and forward it to the service center processing tax returns for his or her state. Form 4868 must be filed on or before April 15, 1987.

On Form 4868, one must make a tentative estimate of the year's taxes and submit any balance due with the form. Upon filing the tax return, if the unpaid tax is more than 10 percent, there is a penalty for late payment unless the taxpayer can show reasonable cause for not paying the tax when due. The penalty is one-half of one percent per month on the unpaid balance, up to a maximum of 25 percent.

Medical Deductions

Allowable medical deductions include costs of special equipment—such as a motorized wheelchair, hand controls on a car, a special telephone for the deaf—and special items, such as false teeth, artificial limbs, eyeglasses, hearing aids, crutches and guide dogs for the blind or deaf. More information can be found in the free IRS Publication 502, Medical and Dental Expenses.

Taxpayers Over 55 May Exclude Home Sale Gain

A once-in-a-lifetime $125,000 exclusion of gain on the sale of a home is available to taxpayers who are 55 or older, the Internal Revenue Service says.

To qualify, taxpayers must be 55 years or older on the date of the sale of their home. The home must have been owned and lived in as the principal residence for at least three years out of the five-year period ending on the date of sale, and the gain on the sale of a home after July 26, 1978, must never have been previously excluded by the taxpayer or his/her spouse.

A principal residence is the home owned and lived in, whether it be a houseboat, mobile home, condominium, apartment or house. If a taxpayer owns two homes and lives in both, the principal residence is the one resided in most of the time.

The gain is the selling price of the residence minus selling expenses and the adjusted basis of the home.

If married, a taxpayer may not choose to exclude the gain unless the spouse joins in making the choice. However, if married and filing a separate return, a taxpayer may choose to exclude no more than $62,500 of the gain. The decision to exclude the gain from a particular sale or exchange may be made or revoked at any time before the latest of: the due date of the tax return for the year of sale; three years from the date the return was filed; or two years from the date the tax was paid. For further information, refer to IRS Publication 523, Tax Information on Selling Your

Home, and IRS Form 2119, Sale or Exchange of Principal Residence. These are available free of charge from the IRS.

Home Improvements

Homeowners should keep all records pertaining to the costs of improvements to their homes. When the home is sold, the cost of many of these items can be used to increase their investment in the home, thus lowering the profits from the sale of the home and any tax they may have to pay on the profits. More information is available in the free IRS Publication 530, Tax Information for Owners of Homes, Condominium and Cooperative Apartments.

Good Tax Records Ease Task Of Filing Returns

Tax return preparation can be made easier, according to the Internal Revenue Service, if taxpayers keep accurate and complete records.

Taxpayers should keep the necessary records to prepare a complete and accurate income tax return for as long as their contents may be material in administering any Internal Revenue law.

Records that support an item of income or a deduction should be kept until the period of limitation for the return expires (generally three years from the date the return was filed, or two years from the date the tax was paid, whichever occurs later.)

Other records that concern income averaging or property transactions (e.g. the purchase of a home) should be kept for as long as they are material.

Copies of filed tax returns should be kept even after the cancelled checks, receipts and other records are disposed of, since they may be helpful in preparing future returns. They should be kept for at least three years to cover the base years figured in income averaging.

Additional information on maintaining records is contained in IRS Publication 552, Recordkeeping for Individuals and a List of Tax Publications, available free by using the mail-order form in your tax package.

Tax Form Copies Available At Some Public Libraries

A set of reproducible federal tax forms is available at many public libraries, the Internal Revenue Service said. Taxpayers needing a form which is not included in their federal income tax package may make a copy at a participating library.

The IRS developed a Publication 1132, Reproducible Federal Tax Forms for Use in Libraries, in an effort to increase the public's accessibility to federal tax forms and schedules. This set of reproducible forms contains a selection of individual and partnership tax forms, schedules and separate instructions. Although use of the reproducible forms is free, public libraries often require a nominal charge for making copies.

Taxpayers can also obtain forms and schedules from many local banks and post offices in limited quantities, or they can be ordered by writing or calling the IRS.

Avoid Common Error When Filing Form 1040

Each year there are areas where large numbers of taxpayers make incorrect entries, slowing the processing of their tax forms, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

These trouble spots fall into two broad categories: problems that recur each year, such as taxpayers selecting the incorrect figure from the tax tables; and problems that stem from changes in the tax laws and forms from one year to the next, such as the addition of a new line to a form or the shift of an existing line to a new position on the form.

Not surprisingly, the largest percentage of errors is made on Form 1040, the so-called "long form." To assist filers of this form, the IRS has compiled the following list of problem areas to double-check:

1. Medical Deductions. This item is not entered on Form 1040, but on a related Schedule A. Because Schedule A was redesigned recently, and due to recent rule changes on medical deductions, IRS expects problems again this year. Be sure to check the limitation on medical expenses.

2. Figure from Tax Table. Because of the number of pages and figures involved, this item is always high on the list of most common errors for all tax forms. Double-check the figure from the tax table for filing status and enter on line 38. Check the box for "Tax Table."

3. Unemployment Compensation. Double-check figures on the worksheet in the tax instruction booklet page 10, and make appropriate entries on lines 20a and b.

4. Child Care Credit. Read instructions carefully and double-check your computations on Form 2441, "Credit for Child and Disabled Dependent Care Expenses." Enter the figure on line 41 and attach Form 2441 to your return.

5. Balance Due Refund. This important item usually makes the list of most common errors. If your total tax (line 55) is larger than your total payments made (line 63) enter the difference on line 67, "Amount You Owe." Follow the instructions for remitting payment. If the reverse is true, enter the difference on line 64, "Overpaid." Enter on line 65, "Refunded To You" the portion of the line 64 overpayment that you want refunded to you.

6. Earned Income Credit (EIC) Not Claimed. If you are a working parent and have at least one child living with you, and if your adjusted gross income is less than $11,000, you probably qualify. See page 16 of instructions.

7. EIC Error or Not Qualified. Make sure you are qualified. Certain expectations must be met, and you must have a dependent child living with you and you must have worked during the year. Follow the instructions carefully and enter on line 58.

8. Dividends. You must complete and attach Schedule B if you have over $400 in dividend income. Enter your total dividends on line 9a; your exclusion (up to $100 for individual filers, up to $200 for married filing jointly) on line 9b; and enter the difference (subtract line 9b from 9a) on line 9c.

9. Income Computation. This is an outgrowth of item 8, since the taxpayers who miscalculate their dividend income will have an error on line 23, total income. Double-check these figures.

10. Income Averaging. Schedule G, "Income Averaging," is one of the most difficult forms for individual filers, because of the number of tax years covered. You should have copies of returns for the preceding three years in order to accurately complete this form. Read and follow instructions carefully and double-check all figures.

Employees Who Travel May Deduct Certain Expenses

Knowing the proper reporting and recordkeeping requirements is essential for taxpayers who claim business-related travel, transportation, entertainment and gift expenses, the Internal Revenue Service said.

The primary proof for these business expenses starts with keeping timely entries of what was spent in a log, diary, journal, appointment book, or similar record. These entries must also include the date and location of the business travel or entertainment, along with who was seen, and the business purpose for incurring the expense, the IRS said. A receipt or similar supporting evidence is required for all expenses of $25 or more.

According to IRS guidelines, all business expenses must be ordinary and necessary in the taxpayer's line of work to be deductible. Reasonable local transportation expenses such as the cost of driving and maintaining an automobile while on business, excluding any commuting and personal mileage, can be deducted.

For a business-related trip outside the area of his or her main place of business, a taxpayer may deduct expenses such as food and lodging. Allowable entertainment deductions must either be directly related to, or associated with, the active pursuit of the taxpayers' business. Business gifts that the taxpayer may deduct are generally limited to $25 for any one individual for the year. The burden of proof for all business expenses lies with the taxpayer, who must show that a bonafide business purpose exists.

Complete information on deducting these business expenses can be found in the free IRS Publication 463, Travel, Entertainment and Gift Expenses. It is available by calling or writing the IRS, or using the order form found in the tax package.

Two Jobs Can Bring Income Tax Credit

Approximately 5.4 percent of the nation's workforce hold more than one job. The majority of these doubly employed individuals pay social security tax on wages from both jobs.

Those who worked for two or more employers during 1987 and received wages totaling more than $42,000 should check to see if they are entitled to a credit for excess social security tax withheld, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Social security tax withheld in excess of $3,003 can be applied as credit against income tax only if the individual had more than one employer.

IRS notes that those who file joint returns may not add the social security tax withheld from a spouse's income to the amount withheld from his or her pay to determine the credit. The credit must be figured separately for each spouse.

Workers who had only one employer and had more than $3,003 withheld may not claim the excess as a credit against their income. The employer should adjust this over-collection, the IRS explains.

Take Time, Avoid Errors When Preparing Tax Return

Filing a Form 1040, 1040A or even the 11-line Form 1040EZ can be an ordeal if prepared in haste at the last minute.

Through the years IRS has seen a trend in filing practices. Some taxpayers file as soon as they receive their tax return packages and Forms W-2 and interest information notices. Others prefer to wait until the last minute when running shoes are a necessity to ensure timely filing before midnight on April 15.

However, those who wait until the last minute might find that preparing their returns earlier—even if only a week or a few days earlier—could make a big difference. Preparing the return over a two or three week period will lessen the chances for mistakes as taxpayers will be more relaxed and take more time in completing the form and appropriate supporting schedules. Taking time in preparing an income tax return will reduce the possibility of making errors, and can help taxpayers discover credits or deductions for which they qualify and might have otherwise missed.

Of course, many file close to the filing deadlines because they must wait for certain forms like Form W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, or Form 1099-INT, Statement for Recipients of Interest Income.

The Internal Revenue Service advises these taxpayers, if they do not receive their statements by Jan. 31, to contact the employer or payer and request that the form be issued.

Taxpayers who still have not received their Forms W-2 by Feb. 15 should call the IRS toll-free telephone number for their area. When contacting the IRS, taxpayers will be asked to provide the employer's name, address and employer's identification number. Having the necessary information available on the first contact, IRS adds, will prevent the need for taxpayers to call again.

Those waiting for Forms 1099-INT should note that they should not attach this form to their completed returns. All that is required is the payment information from the forms; so if the taxpayer has kept accurate records or can get the information from the issuing company, he or she can file without having received the form.

The important thing to remember about filing a federal income tax return is to file by April 15 and ensure that the correct postage is affixed to the envelope. Thicker returns, IRS advises, usually containing over four items (i.e., Form 1040 and three attachments) will require extra postage. Returns which are sent back to taxpayers for additional postage will not be considered timely filed tax returns even if they were originally mailed on April 15.

TAX TIP

A Public Service of the IRS

"I want every job done right..."

- Be careful when selecting a tax preparer:
  - stay away from someone who claims to have an "in" with the IRS.
  - don't accept promises of a refund
  - Get the preparer to sign the return,
  - NEVER agree to sign a blank return.

Homeowners Must Inform IRS Of Deferred Home Sale Gain

Homeowners selling or exchanging a personal residence who then postpone paying taxes on any gain from the sale must report the transaction in the year of sale, the Internal Revenue Service says.

The sale must be reported using the Form 2119, Sale or Exchange of Principal Residence, available by using the handy order blank in the tax package. If a taxable gain results, Schedule D (Form 1040), Capital Gains and Losses, must also be used.

The IRS monitors the returns of taxpayers whose circumstances suggest a sale which should be reported, such as a return showing a change of address and a real estate deduction, but without the required form attached.

Generally, the gain from the sale of a principal residence is not taxed at the time of sale if a new residence is at least as much as the adjusted sale price of the old residence. The new residence must be occupied within 24 months before or after the sale of the old home.

The tax may be postponed, according to the IRS, but it is not forgotten. Any gain realized from the sale must be subtracted from the cost or basis of the replacement residence, thus lowering the basis for the replacement residence. In the long run, lowering the basis will increase the amount of gain that will result from the eventual sale of the replacement home.

For example: A home is purchased for $30,000 and sold for $40,000. The result is a gain of $10,000. A replacement residence is bought within 24 months for $50,000. The $10,000 gain from the first house must be subtracted from the basis of the new house ($50,000 minus $10,000 equals $40,000). If the second house is eventually sold for $65,000 and not replaced, the owner must pay a tax on $25,000 ($65,000 minus $40,000), the combined gain from both homes. However, if the owner is at least 55 years of age when the home is sold, he or she may be eligible for up to $125,000 of the gain.

The IRS points out that the sale must be reported to establish a record of the current basis upon which taxes on the deferred gain can be figured.

Divorced Parents May Take Medical Expense Deduction

Divorced or separated parents are reminded of rules regarding their child's medical expenses, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Divorced, separated or married parents who have not lived together during the last six months of the calendar year, and have supplied more than half of the child's support together, can now deduct the expenses they incurred for their child's medical care. Previously, only the parent who could claim the child as a dependent was entitled to claim medical expenses.

According to the Internal Revenue Service, the child will be treated as a dependent of both parents for purposes of the medical expense deduction. This deduction creates a tax benefit for the parent who is not entitled to the exemption for the child, since without those medical expenses, the five percent medical deduction requirement might not be satisfied.

The deduction does not apply where half of the child's support is treated as being received under a multiple support agreement.

Free IRS Publication 504, Tax Information for Divorced or Separated Individuals, has more information on this subject and can be obtained by writing or calling the IRS.

Common Sand

The most common minerals found in sand are quartz and feldspar.

Owe No Income Tax? File To Get Refund

Filing a tax return may be a good idea for some taxpayers even if they are not required to do so, the Internal Revenue Service said. Many low-income workers—like students, retirees and part-time employees—are entitled to receive a full refund of the federal income tax withheld during the year, but they must file a return to get it.

Taxpayers should check their Forms W-2, Wage and Tax Statement, to see if any income taxes were withheld. If taxes were withheld, and no tax is owed, filing a tax return is the only way to recover the money.

Know The Facts Before Investing In IRA Plan

Earned money should be invested wisely. An Individual Retirement Account (IRA) is a long-term investment. However, an IRA should be chosen carefully and all financial aspects of it checked thoroughly.

IRAs may be bought from different sources, including banks, insurance companies and mutual funds. Savers should compare IRAs from these different sources to choose the one that is best for his or her situation. Some things to look for when shopping for an IRA are:

- Are there fees?
  - How much are the fees?
  - What is the interest rate and how is it figured?
  - How much will be in the account at retirement age?
- The Internal Revenue Service cautions taxpayers about misleading or incomplete disclosure statements related to IRAs.

Check Details. Even though the federal tax law on IRAs in general requires complete and accurate disclosure by financial institutions, important details are sometimes omitted, the IRS notes.

One good way to determine which financial instrument is the best overall investment is to examine the part of the institution's disclosure statement that gives a projection of the value of the investment at the end of each of the first five years and also at ages 60, 65 and 70. Withdrawal penalties for money that is taken out prematurely are also supposed to be reflected on these projections, the IRS adds.

Reminder. The IRS notes that taxpayers must contribute to their IRAs by April 15, 1987, for the contribution to apply to the 1986 tax year. Extensions to file a federal tax return do not extend the deadline for contributing to the IRA.

More information on IRAs is available in IRS Publication 590, Individual Retirement Arrangements (IRAs). To obtain it, use the order form in the tax package or call the IRS.

Tax Benefits, Filing Aid Are Available To Seniors

Many older Americans can take advantage of special tax benefits offered by the tax laws, according to the Internal Revenue Service.

Single persons 65 or older do not have to file a federal income tax return if their income was less than $4,640. The limit for a married couple filing a joint return is $9,280 when only one spouse is 65 or older, and $7,990 if both spouses are 65 or over. For this purpose, persons are considered to be 65 on the day before their 65th birthday.

Anyone 65 or older is entitled to an extra exemption of $1,000.

Another special benefit is the Credit for the Elderly and the Permanently and Totally Disabled. The credit can in some cases reduce taxes owed by as much as $750 for single persons and $1,125 for married couples filing a joint return. Individuals under 65 will be eligible for this credit only if they retire with total and permanent disability and have income from a public or private employer because of that disability.

Senior citizens who are thinking about selling their personal residence should consider the once-in-a-lifetime $125,000 exclusion of the gain on the sale of their home. An awareness of the tax consequences is essential before selling a personal residence at any age, especially so for those age 55 or older to whom this benefit applies.

Taxpayers needing assistance with their returns can turn to Tax Counseling for the Elderly, an IRS program through which volunteers from many organizations provide free tax information and assistance to individuals age 60 and over. Contact your local IRS office for locations near you.

You may obtain free publications by using the mail-order form in your tax package. Publications of special interest to older taxpayers include:

502, Medical and Dental Expenses; 505, Tax Withholding and Estimated Tax; 523, Tax Information on Selling Your Home; 524, Credit for the Elderly or for the Permanently and Totally Disabled.

Also, No. 554, Tax Information for Older Americans; 575, Pension and Annuity Income; 910, Guide to Free Tax Services; and 915, Tax Information on Social Security Benefits (and Tier I Railroad Retirement Benefits.)

Travel

Expo Center Is Home To Major Travel Shows

If an interested traveler was to select a popular destination in Chicagoland, it might turn out to be O'Hare Expo Center in Rosemont. O'Hare has housed one major indoor and travel show after the other. The 1986 Annual Chicagoland RV and Camper Show runs to an end Sunday, Feb. 22. It's an opportunity to check the latest in outdoor equipment and converse with "reps" from some 30 locations that provide camper sites.

A recent survey shows most campers seek good first class facilities when selecting stops. Second consideration is the campground ease of approach. Is it on the route or located near other interest points? Cleanliness was another initial consideration. These are all important factors when arranging trips to satisfy travelers in an unfamiliar location.

On the final Sunday, a Coleman Colorado fold-down camper will be awarded to a registered attendee. Show opens weekdays at 3 p.m.; Saturday at 10 a.m.; and Sunday from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. Admission is $5 for adults and $2 for children under 13.

For those who enjoy the travel switch from land to water, springlike weather has provided an early boat show--The 18th Midwest Boat and Resort Show which docks at, you guessed it, O'Hare Expo. The gangplank drops Wednesday, Feb. 25. Doors open at noon weekdays, and 10 a.m. on the weekend. Illinois boaters spent $196 million on boats, motors and related equipment last year, as their portion of a $14 billion national industry. This provides recreational boating for some 69 million persons. Financed equipment purchases are made easier by relaxed interest rates. Also, finance costs continue as tax credits, if the boat has living quarters and is used as a second home.

Air travel fares are likely to increase modestly as the industry becomes dominated by the six giant airlines that have emerged from buy-outs. This will be further actuated as passenger counts continue to grow and flight demands increase. Super special discount rates limit travelers to selected destinations, days and hours. They must be prepaid and are non-refundable. These specials may decrease about 25 percent this year. It's reassuring that no scheduled U.S. commercial plane crashed last year, despite increased traffic.

Air travelers may be surprised to see things going to the dogs in international airports. Should a green-jacketed beagle hound stop at your luggage, sniff and sit down, there's a better than 80 percent chance you are carrying something which needs inspection. These heaven (scent) detector dogs have been highly successful in spotting concealed contraband. This new dog-on-good pilot project is scheduled for expansion.

Michigan's tv winter visitor invitation to Illinois viewers will terminate this Sunday, a harbinger of spring's approach.

Canada invites full-fare visitors, via Air Canada and related lines, to bring family members along at 50 percent reduction. Offer applies with purchases through March 31, for trips terminating by April 15.

Prodigy Back At Symphony

Corey Cerovsek, internationally renowned 14-year-old prodigy, returns to Lake Forest the first week in March for two performances presented by the Lake Forest Symphony Assn.

Since appearing with the Lake Forest Symphony last February, Cerovsek has had a varied and exciting career. He has made several appearances at Expo '86, which were televised via satellite throughout Europe; he has twice appeared on "The Tonight Show" with Johnny Carson; he has been profiled in Newsweek, McCall's and

Saturday Night magazine; he has studied with renowned concert violinist Nathan Milstein in Europe; he has been called upon to portray the young composer Vivaldi in an upcoming CBC documentary; and he made his London debut with the Bournemouth Symphony in Royal Festival Hall.

On Sunday, March 8 at 7:30 p.m., Corey will perform the Sphor Violin Concerto No. 8 in the Drake Theatre, Lake Forest. The evening's program includes soloists from the Lurie Opera Center for American Artists singing selections from Act I of Mozart's "Così fan tutte." Victor Aitay, music director emeritus of the Lake Forest Symphony, will conduct the Lake Forest Symphony Chamber Orchestra.

Tickets are available by calling the Symphony office, (312)295-2135 or Ticketron. They are also available at Don's Finest Foods, the Deerpath Inn, Helander's and Smith's Men's Store in Lake Forest. Prices range from $12 to $17. Students and seniors $9. Group rates are available on request.

RV and Camper Show Continues At Center

The Annual Chicagoland RV and Camper Show, opened Feb. 13 at the O'Hare Expo Center. This 10-day presentation is Chicagoland's largest exclusive RV and camper show and has been for 19 years. One-hundred-and-twenty-five exhibits, covering 175,000 feet of floor space, include vans, fold-downs, travel trailers, fifth wheelers, mini-homes, motor homes and luxury vehicles.

Bill Kervin, show director, says RV and camping lifestyles are at an all time high. Campground and destination travel exhibitors will advise on routes and accommodations. A growing attraction for RVs is found among families with pets...they can travel and enjoy their family, along with the pleasurable freedom of travel.

Admission to the show is $5; children under 13, $2. Show opens weekdays at 3 p.m.; 11 a.m. on weekends. Call (312) 577-5777 for show information.

Legislature Takes Up Issue Of Elder Abuse

Perhaps one of the most difficult types of crime to understand is that which is committed against defenseless, trusting individuals—particularly children and senior citizens. Even harder to comprehend are acts of malice or abuse against members of one's own family.

For several years now, child abuse has been a major concern, with hundreds of studies and programs aimed at the problem. But until recently, the crime of elder abuse was a little-known problem, despite the fact that potentially thousands of senior citizens suffer abuse every year, said State Rep. Dick Klemm.

Elder abuse is not just physical abuse of older persons. It can take many different forms, including sexual abuse, psychological abuse, financial exploitation, confinement for other than medical reasons, deprivation of services or medical treatment, and passive or self neglect.

During the 1984 legislative session, Illinois lawmakers created the Elder Abuse Demonstration Program to learn more about the problem and help determine the most appropriate method for dealing with elder abuse and neglect of older persons in Illinois. The program has been in effect since Aug. 1, 1984 and is scheduled to continue through June 30 of this year. During the upcoming legislative session, lawmakers will examine findings and results from the program and work on plans for a statewide effort against elder abuse.

The demonstration program was set up through Area Agencies on Aging in four areas of the state;

Winnebago County, Kankakee County, the Suburban Cook County townships of Evanston, Niles and Maine, and the southern Illinois counties of Franklin, Williamson, Jackson and Perry.

A primary goal of the Elder Abuse Program is to determine the relative effectiveness of three different modes of intervention that could be used with suspected victims of abuse. One of the modes being used is referred to as advocacy intervention. Under this mode, a voluntary reporting system is applied which emphasizes the client's right to accept or refuse services. It also assumes that the lowest level of intervention will be used in assisting victims of abuse and neglect.

The second mode being tested is known as legal intervention, which focuses on the legal system as the primary mode of services to victims. This mode promotes the use of restraining orders when necessary, the filing of complaints with the police and applicable courts, and keeping case information to assist in prosecution.

And the final mode, mandatory reporting, requires certain classes of individuals, such as physicians, dentists, social workers, nurses and others, to report suspected cases of elder abuse. This mode of intervention is generally seen as the most intrusive and most costly to the public.

It is hoped that information from the four demonstration programs will provide the state with much useful information, including the number of elderly who are abused and in need of protective services; sources currently available to help abused seniors; identification of the basic care and emergency services required to respond to cases of abuse; and determination of the most effective approach for reporting suspected cases.

With the program set to expire in five months, officials are now in the process of compiling information from the program and assessing the results. This data should be extremely valuable in the upcoming session as legislators attempt to develop a statewide program to address elder abuse.

Problems like elder abuse are some of the most difficult that we face. But through careful study and evaluation, it is our hope that a program can be created that will save our senior citizens from the pain and grief of abuse, Klemm said.

Sheriff's Police Have Films Available

The Lake County Sheriff's Police have acquired two new audio-visual films which are available for showing, free of charge, to schools, civic clubs, churches and parent groups. "Crack," the story of a teenage cocaine addict, shows the misery caused by this most powerful form of cocaine. "The Latchkey Kids" shows how self-care by school-age children of working mothers can be safe and successful. For additional information or to schedule a showing of either film, contact Sergeant Ralph Connard, Lake County Sheriff's Police, at (312) 360-6471.

It's a practical part of estate planning.

Lions Screening Unit Has 'Eye' For Trouble

MARK BENNO
Every year, we are accompanied to seeing vested volunteers of local Lions at working intersections of other well traveled in search of donations for the charitable organization.

Most of us stop and donate to the Lions Club, in exchange receiving the familiar, brightly colored bag of candy. We then move along, most of the time not aware of where that money is going. One of the most valuable results of these donations, however, is the Illinois Mobile Glaucoma Screening Unit.

According to information from the Lions of Illinois Foundation, in the 17 year history of the mobile screening unit, Lions have screened 490,439 Illinois residents for glaucoma, or an average of 28,850 per year.

During this impressive period of screening, Lions have referred an estimated 34,500 glaucoma suspects to their physician for follow-up, and have uncovered 2,310
confirmed cases of the crippling eye disease.

That's 2,000 cases of glaucoma which have been uncovered through our screening efforts," said
Ronald Newsome, President of the Lions of Illinois Foundation. The foundation works with the state's more than 800 Lions, Lioness, and Leo Clubs in coordinating Lions' service and philanthropic activities.

In the year-end summary of the Glaucoma Unit, Newsome revealed that an additional 95,000 Illinois residents have been referred to their physician for follow-up visual acuity—how well you see and how far.

In the past several years,

Lions have also tested
visitors to the Glaucoma Unit (bus) for diabetes and hypertension. The two conditions, with glaucoma, are major causes of blindness in adults, said
Newsome.

Of 28,400 residents
screened for hypertension (high blood pressure), 450 were referred to their physicians as hypertension suspects, and 50 were confirmed as suffering from the heart disease.

Of the 33,705 people screened for diabetes, 985 were sent to their doctors, and 79 were discovered to have diabetes.

"Altogether," said
Newsome, "we have uncovered several thousand cases of glaucoma, hypertension, and diabetes, cases which might never have been diagnosed otherwise."

In all three diseases, victims have little or no indication that they may be suffering from the disease, until it is too late and blindness a strong possibility, said Newsome.

A screening test is about the only way that a person with the disease may be diagnosed. Newsome indicated that a person diagnosed as a suspect may not be considered a victim until this is confirmed by the patient's physician through additional testing and follow-up.

The Glaucoma Van, said Newsome, travels thousands of miles every year, visiting hundreds of Illinois communities. Screenings are sponsored by local Lions Clubs, through the coordination of the Lions of Illinois Foundation. The foundation schedules all of the screenings.

All Lions' services, including testing, are offered free of charge and are funded through Candy Day and other Lions fundraising activities.

Newsome noted that Lions are zeroing in on their 500,000 person screened since the glaucoma unit commenced operations in 1969.

"That will be a red-letter day in our history, and will be observed with all the hoopla and color appropriate for such an occasion," he said. Newsome estimated that the landmark 500,000 person screened should occur during the latter part of 1987.

Perhaps the next time we see a Lions member and

"don't have the time" to donate, remind yourself of the fact that you're able to see the hard-working volunteer.

National PTA Celebrates 90th Anniversary

The Parent Teacher Association (PTA) is celebrating its 90th birthday. On Feb. 17, 1897, the first organizational meeting was held in Washington, D.C. According to historical records, 200 persons were expected, over 2,000 attended.

Founders Alice McClellan Birney, first national president, and Phoebe Apperson Hearst, first vice-president, realized the need to make the public aware of educational, sociological, moral, spiritual and health issues facing parents and teachers in their daily lives. These two were dedicated to providing the means to address these issues.

Since its founding, PTAs throughout the U.S. and the military bases which comprise the European Congress, have been involved in efforts to promote the physical and emotional welfare of all children and to improve public education through legislative action and parent education.

Three crucial areas have formed the framework of the PTA and given direction to its efforts for children: advocacy, service and parent education. As the needs of children have changed, the organization's specific objectives have become redefined, but these three traits have remained constant.

From the beginning the importance of informing teachers about advances in education has been a vital part of the PTA. Early members advocated the establishment of a national health bureau, U.S. Children's Bureau, and Home Education Division of the U.S. Bureau of Education; protection of employed children and child labor laws; kindergarten as part of the public school system; and sponsored hot lunch programs in many schools.

Every day the PTA works for the welfare of children. State and national legislatures request information and testimony on matters related to education, children and family life from PTA officers and chairmen. Contemporary concerns include drug and alcohol abuse, child abuse, latchkey children, tv viewing skills, parenting, and teen pregnancy.

In recent years with increasing frequency, the PTA state congresses and councils have been awarded grants from numerous sources to study various aspects of public education such as increasing parent participation in schools, local safety belt and child restraint programs, discipline problems in schools, absenteeism, school/community health education, food and nutrition.

The PTA's record of accomplishment for the well-being of children and youth is impressive. It has helped to secure child labor and school attendance laws, juvenile courts, maternal and child health services, public school kindergartens, school lunches, funds for enrichment education programs, libraries and vocational education.

At the local level, most PTAs are closely involved with issues and problems affecting primarily their own schools and communities. Through networking they often find that what was thought to be a problem unique to their area, is more widespread. By sharing information with councils, states and the national organization, they can often arrive at solutions. PTA leaders spend many hours working as volunteers to help all children, seeing the broad aspect of issues affecting the welfare of children.

The PTA is proud of its past record and looks forward to the future with a strong commitment, knowing that children will always need friends and advocates who will speak out and take action on their behalf. As the nation's largest child advocacy group, the PTA has been committed to a continuing course of action that will bring the system of education closer to excellence and make the home environment a positive and healthy experience for children and youth.

Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers Honors National Weight Loss Winners

"I Lost 174 Pounds and 125 Inches!"

"Unquestionably, the Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers diet works! The medical supervision, the daily monitoring and the behavior modification all add up to success!"
Martha Fulton-Higgs, Columbus, Ohio

"I Lost 125 Pounds in 26 Weeks!"

"The friendly and understanding approach of the staff convinced me to try Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers."

Now, 26 weeks later and 125 pounds lighter, my whole life has changed."
Bruce Thornton, Springfield, Ohio

"I Lost 268 Pounds and 155 Inches!"

"My doctor told me I had a very short time to live. Thanks to Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers, I'm alive today. Thank you, Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers, for giving me the will to lose over 268 pounds and 155 inches."
Linda Carter, Winston-Salem, North Carolina

The "Slim to Win" weight loss contest was the highlight of the Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers national convention in Columbus, Ohio. The 3 finalists presented their stories to over 700 Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers staff.

Martha Fulton-Higgs told the audience how she had lost 174 pounds in just 10 months. "If diet alone could have done this for me, I would have lost the weight long ago. It was the combination of the diet, the behavioral guidance and the support of the staff that helped me to succeed," she said.

Bruce Thornton told his story of losing 170 pounds. Like Martha, he credited his success to the supportive staff of Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers. "They changed their schedule to suit mine. Whether I had a good day or a bad day, they were always supportive," he said.

Linda Carter told the audience of how she had weighed over 470 pounds one year and nine months earlier. She had been confined to a wheel chair for five years, suffered from grand mal seizures and extremely high blood pressure. Her seizures are now under control and she walks with only the aid of a cane. "It's great to be alive and I owe it all to Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers," Linda told the tearful audience.

Finally, the winners of the "Slim to Win" weight loss contest were announced. Martha Fulton-Higgs won first prize—a Bahamas cruise for two. Linda Carter won second prize—a Disney World/Epcot Center trip for two. Bruce Thornton took home third prize—a Cuisinart Food Processor.

Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers are so proud of their national weight loss winners, they want to celebrate by offering you a very special savings. From now until February 27, they'll pay your medical fees when you enroll in the program.

Medical Supervision is the Key

All Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers employ medical doctors, registered or licensed practical nurses (R.N.s or L.P.N.s), and certified weight loss counselors. A professional medical team approach is maintained throughout the duration of every weight loss program.

Medical services are performed in-house on all potential patients, as well as on the active enrollees.

Many patients expect to be hungry, irritable and short of energy while dieting, but this is not the case with the Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers program. Careful menu planning guarantees that the patients eat well-balanced, nutritious meals. By the end of the weight loss program, patients are convinced that they don't have to starve to lose weight.

Lose Weight and Keep it Off!

Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers places a strong emphasis on replacing improper eating habits with more healthy and constructive attitudes about food.

Behavioral guidance counselors conduct sessions twice weekly to increase each patient's awareness of unproductive, self-defeating eating habits.

Keeping those pounds off is where many dieters fail. At Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers, patients are urged and motivated to maintain their goal weights. A one year maintenance program is available, during which the staff guides each patient and encourages him or her to participate regularly in behavior guidance classes.

If, during the one year maintenance program, up to three pounds are gained, Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers gives the patient weight loss services at no charge. The counselors will gladly help the patient lose these few pounds before any more weight is gained and the weight problem recurs.

"I've Kept 164 Pounds Off for Six Years!"

"With the help of Physicians WEIGHT LOSS Centers' caring staff, I've lost over 160 pounds and kept it off!"
Darlene Carris, Fairlawn, Ohio

Lakeland's Tax Seminar Set For Next Wednesday

While the impact of tax reform legislation will not be felt until next year's returns are filled out, taxpayers will have to start planning now to avoid being caught by surprise.

That is why Lakeland Newspapers, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, will host a seminar on federal income taxes on Wednesday, Feb. 25, starting at 7 p.m. in a seminar room at the College of Lake County in Grayslake.

Open to all interested parties, IRS Agent Sallie Goding will speak for about an hour and a half before opening up the floor to questions from the audience.

"The changes will affect almost everyone," she said. "The new law abolishes the deduction for a married couple when both work. Rules for IRAs have changed drastically and there are many changes in itemized deductions."

While Goding said she would not be giving advice on tax planning, she said she would give information on what has changed and how it will affect taxpayers. She will offer advice on how to fill out the new W-4 Forms.

Goding has been a revenue agent out of the Schaumburg office since 1980. She works in auditing of large companies and is a certified public accountant.

"Even though I will be giving my presentation for the first hour and a half, I make room in that for individual questions when a point is not clear. For individuals who have questions beyond what will be discussed in the regular session, I will stay after and discuss it with them individually," she said.

Lakeland Publisher William H. Schroeder noted that the public does not often have the chance to speak to an IRS agent in a give and take situation. "This seminar will give people that opportunity," he said.

Admission is free.

During the next few weeks, you'll receive this notice about changes in your phone bill.

Please read it carefully.

Next month, a new, fairer, pay-for-what-you-use local calling plan will be introduced for Illinois Bell customers throughout Northeastern Illinois.

But before the new local calling plan goes into effect, we want to help you understand how it may change your bill.

So some time during the next few weeks, you'll receive a special mailing like the one pictured here. Inside, you'll find a booklet that explains the new plan in detail. You'll also receive a personalized comparison of your own local calling charges for the last few months, and what the charges would be, for those same calls, under the new plan.

So watch for this special mailing from Illinois Bell, and make sure to take a look at what's inside. It's the information you need to understand why your phone bill is changing, and what the changes mean to you.

Wilmot Edges Central Keeps Conference Lead

PADDOCK LAKE — the third Wilmot-Central meeting on the basketball floor ended into an unexpected squeaker despite the fact the Wilmot leads the division and the Falcons are only battling 500.

The Wilmot cagers edged the Central High School basketball team, 65-63, to make it 3-0 in Wilmot's favor for this cage season and the Panthers at 10-2, in the lead of the Western division of the Southern Lakes Conference.

The Panthers were slated to meet Union Grove on Tuesday. They are ranked 10th in the state and the Falcons are now 6-6 in conference play.

The first quarter was Wilmot's with Andy Brown's 10 and Sig Kolano's six points giving the Panthers the lead, 20-10, at the end of that quarter.

The Falcons came back to cut Wilmot's lead down to one by half-time, 32-31. It was an even-Seven game all the way to the middle of the fourth quarter with the score at that time, 56-56.

After a controversial foul call against Panther Kevin Heckel for "under cutting" the Falcons went ahead with two successful free throws by Mike Yates.

Then Brown, who was the games top scorer with 19 points, tossed a good one from the free throw line. A turn-about repeat of the first controversial undercutter call came with both Heckel and Yates involved again. This time the call went Heckel's way and he made one of his two free throws tying the score, 60-60, at the two-minute mark.

A Falcon foul gave Kolano two chances at the free throw line and he sank both giving the Panthers a 62-60 lead. Jim Bruton marked up three more making it 65-60 in Wilmot's favor and then Falcons Yates, and Greg Sheen accounted for three point to close the scoring gap to two points where it stayed despite Central's valiant last ditch efforts.

Lynn Carlson was the top Central scorer with 18 points.

Vorpahl Champ Grappler

WILMOT — Dustin Vorpahl, Wilmot High School star wrestler won the Southern Lakes Conference wrestling title at 155 pounds at the conference tournament held at Elkhorn on Feb. 7.

Finishing in third place at 167 was Ernie Robinson and in third place at heavyweight was Ron Benser.

Bristol Slates Sign-Up

BRISTOL — The Bristol Grade School will be registering kindergarten students for the 1987-88 school year on Wednesday and Thursday, Feb. 25-26, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Anyone knowing of people living in the Bristol School Dist., or planning on moving into the district, who have children who will be five years old on or before Sept. 1, should tell them of the registration.

Nature Cleaners

Urban pollution fighters are taking to the trees in their battle against dirty air, according to National Wildlife magazine. Recent research has demonstrated that some trees absorb huge amounts of pollutants. Red maple and white birch, for example, seem almost to thrive on sulfur dioxide, while white oaks are especially good at absorbing ozone.

Central High Has New Trophy Case

"The need for a new trophy case at Central High School had been apparent for a long time," commented Carol Johnson, president of the Falcon Athletic Booster Club, "and we decided that something should be done about it."

That was last year. Now, thanks to the cooperation of many, Central High has a new showcase which will hold hundreds of trophies.

The trophy case, which cost over $4,000, to produce, $1,000 of which is in glass alone, stretches 24 feet long. The money for it was donated not only by Booster Club, but also by C-Club, Pep Club, and the school board. Many fund-raising projects were needed to reach this goal.

Mr. Nunemaker, Central's woodshop teacher, constructed the case. It required over 200 hours to complete, with most of the work done in the evenings or on weekends.

Nunemaker calls the case "the largest project I have ever done and one I'm very proud of." He adds that "It was a good experience to have several school organizations working together toward a common goal."

Johnson, who says that Booster Club has received many compliments on the trophy case, wishes to thank all who helped make the project so successful. "I look forward to seeing it filled and needing another one," she says.

The motto of the Booster Club is "Spirit and Unity Through Athletics." The new showcase is a sample of what can be done when a need is recognized and people work together.

Johnson reminds the community that parents, friends, and alumni are welcome to join Booster Club. Those interested should call the school, (414)843-2321 for more information.

Completes

Army National Guard Private Christopher A. Fritzler, son of Anita E. and William T. Fritzler of Lindenhurst, has completed one station unit training (OSUT) at the U.S. Army Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga. He is a 1986 graduate of Antioch Community High School.

CHS Gymnasts Tops Fourth Year In Row

SALEM — The Central gymnastics team traveled to Whitewater on Feb. 12 to take on the Whippets in conference action and also Fall River in non-conference action.

The Falcons continued to dominate their opponents as they won the triangular meet 105.78 to Whitewater's 85.24 and Fall River's 80.14.

Central set a number of school records at this meet. The 105.78 is a new record, breaking the 104.84 the team set at Burlington; the two victories gave the team a final dual meet record of 10-0 breaking the 8-1 record the 1983-84 team had.

The win over Whitewater gave the team a fourth consecutive Southern Lakes Eastern Division title at 7-0; Kim Perks broke two individual records as she scored an 8.85 on beam to break her old record of 8.8 she set last week at Jefferson.

She also broke her all-around record of 8.2 which she had set at Franklin, with an 8.33 score.

In the meet only two girls from Whitewater and Fall River managed to place in the top three, as Central had total control. Whitewater had to scratch their top gymnast, Tina Gorby, in three of the events due to a leg injury.

"At the beginning of the year I knew we were going to have a decent team. I figured we could win the Eastern Division title for the fourth time. I did not expect to go unbeaten all year. The remarkable thing so far about this year's team is that with all the records they have established, the team is not made up of superstars. They have done it without the services of the team's most talented gymnast, who decided not to come out this year, and they still are getting better and better each week," said Coach Bill Price.

The junior varisty team defeated Whitewater 98.6 to 86.7. The JVs finished at 9-0 and have won 35 meets in a row, not losing in four years.

Platteville Fetes Art, Education

The Center of Education for the Young Adolescent at the University of Wisconsin-Platteville has announced the opening of the Young Adolescent Art Exhibit, on display at the school through the month of February, and was opened during the first week in February in honor of Catholic Schools Week. It can be viewed by the public during regular school hours.

The 10-piece collection showcases the artwork of students between the ages of 10 and 14, and is part of a 500-piece collection that was begun in 1981. At that time, teams attending the summer seminar sponsored by the UW-Platteville Center of Education for the Young Adolescent were invited to bring three pieces of art to represent their school.

The works of art were given to the center by middle school students from across Wisconsin, as well as some from out of state.

The pieces selected for this exhibit include works of oil and acrylic, paper mache, lithographs and mixed media.

The exhibit celebrates the value of art as an educational tool which enhances the students' life far beyond the classroom setting.

Ummm...

Governor Al Smith of New York once greeted an audience at Sing Sing Prison with "My fellow citizens..." but then remembered convicts were not citizens and changed it to "My fellow convicts." When that did not prove accurate either, he gulped and said, "Well, anyhow, I'm glad to see so many of you here."

An Open Letter to the Supporters of LIBERTY LAKES, ILLINOIS

AMERIKA

C

We, the Committee to Incorporate LIBERTY LAKES thank you for your continuing support of the effort to form a new village. We want to bring you up to date on the status of the incorporation and to explain our position. We have every reason to believe we shall prevail in our battle to win the right to vote on our own destiny.

As you may know, we withdrew from the Lake County Board proceedings when it became apparent that we would not get a fair hearing. We went straight to Court with our Petition to Incorporate, and argued that the law requiring us to go to the County Board was unconstitutional. The case was bounced back and forth like a political "hot potato". We went before four different judges and were shuffled between five different court rooms. Associate Judge Harry D. Hartel, who finally heard the case, ruled that the law giving the County Board power over incorporation was valid and he dismissed our Petition because the County Board had not yet rendered a decision. We immediately appealed Judge Hartel's ruling, and the case is now in the Appellate Court. There also is a chance that the Illinois Supreme Court may take the case before the Appellate Court rules.

Our position is a simple one. The law requiring us to go to the County Board gives the board the power to make two determinations:

- (1) Whether our proposed village is compatible with the county's land use plan, and
- (2) Whether there is a sufficient tax base in order to insure the provision of all necessary municipal services.

We believe that this power to make determinations is quasi-judicial as opposed to legislative. A quasi-judicial proceeding has the power to make rulings or findings on a case by case basis for each new village, just as a court makes rulings in cases brought before it. This is different from the legislative power to pass general laws, even those concerning the requirements for all new incorporations that may occur now or in the future. Before we withdrew from the County Board, the Chairman of its Planning and Zoning Committee had stated for the record that the Board's power was quasi-judicial!

If we are right, about the kind of power the County Board has, and we know we are, then the law that we are challenging is clearly unconstitutional. There are certain requirements for a law that gives quasi-judicial power, and none of the requirements are met by this law. For example, the law must provide an opportunity to appeal to an actual court if an unfair or unreasonable decision is made by the County Board. This is a matter of fundamental fairness. Yet the law we are challenging does not permit any appeal whatsoever, and gives the County Board a kind of absolute power that has no place in this nation's system of checks and balances.

Also, a law that gives quasi-judicial power must set forth clear legal standards so that inconsistent decisions will not be made. In our case, what is the meaning of "a sufficient tax base as will insure the ability of the village to provide all necessary municipal services"? The County's Planning and Zoning Committee had to request an opinion from the State's Attorney's Office on this subject. And the opinion given was that there were no laws or cases defining "necessary municipal services".

In a case very similar to ours, the Illinois Supreme Court struck down a law which permitted a County Superintendent to determine whether there was sufficient assessed valuation to form a satisfactory high school district. The Supreme Court called the law "clearly unconstitutional". The reason for striking down the law was obvious to the Court. The language of the law was vague and subject to different interpretations, one superintendent would decide one way, and another superintendent a different way. Therefore, there could be no consistency in the application of the law. The vague language of this law opened the door for unfairness and discrimination. The law allowed each superintendent to rule however he wanted, and that kind of arbitrary power is unconstitutional. Unless the Illinois Supreme Court decides to reverse this case, which is unlikely because it has been the law for nearly seventy years, LIBERTY LAKES will easily win its appeal.

There is one disturbing factor in our case before the Appellate Court. It appears that annexations of territory out of a proposed village into an established neighboring village are frozen only so long as the petition to incorporate is pending. When Judge Hartel dismissed our petition, it was no longer pending, and thus it may be that the territory of LIBERTY LAKES is fair game for annexations while our appeal is being decided. What happens if annexations cut us in half, or take big areas out of our legal description? Obviously, these things could have a major impact upon the incorporation, perhaps even jeopardize it. We explained this situation to the Appellate Court and asked it to freeze annexation while our appeal was being decided. This is something the court has a perfect right to do. In fact this kind of a freeze of the status quo is customary whenever there is an appeal so that nothing detrimental occurs while the appeal is pending. The Appellate Court, for unstated reasons, denied our request! This is the same Appellate Court that did not hesitate to freeze the election in the Beach Park incorporation case while that appeal was being decided.

We then had no choice but to try to get the Illinois Supreme Court to take the case from the Appellate Court and to itself freeze annexations. We feel that we had to exhaust every effort to protect LIBERTY LAKES. We will not be barred from the fundamental right to vote on our own destiny because of an arbitrary and unconstitutional decision by the Lake County Board. We will not allow government by the people to vanish in this county, state or nation. Our rights must be preserved here and now, before they are lost forever. We believe in a nation based on law, and we trust that justice will be done. Our battle for LIBERTY LAKES may be long and hard fought, but it is a battle for

OUR LAND-OUR FUTURE OUR WAY.

Thank you for your continued interest and support.

Sincerely,

The Committee to Incorporate

THIS WEEK'S HOROSCOPE

WEEKLY TIP: Curiosity leads to discovery. Aries (Mar. 21-Apr. 19) A big celebration is at hand; be sure you aren't put off by all the preparations that will appear to descend on you all at once.

Taurus (Apr. 20-May 20) A trip results in new understanding and new respect for your efforts. Take all the time necessary to make your position as clear as possible.

Gemini (May 21-June 20) Once again you face an unpleasant fact about a close associate. This time, your alertness could prevent problems that might develop.

Cancer (June 21-July 20) A real relationship requires more than lip service. You need to be more up front than you've dared to be up to now.

Leo (Jul. 21-Aug. 22) Open up and let some of that warmth come out and heat up a situation that threatens to ice over unless you start thawing out your emotions.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Get into the project feeling more confident than you have been for too long. Remember: you're a worthy person with a lot to give.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22) Recognition continues to come in for your efforts. Continue to build on what you've already established. Change is necessary.

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21) Someone who was once important to you returns and makes you rethink some of your recent decisions. Some changes may be necessary.

Sagittarius (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) The return of a friend you thought you'd lost for good is a welcome event. Much rebuilding has to be done to shore up some weak areas.

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Family health problems continue to need attention. Some misunderstandings may cause confusion. Take things a step at a time.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) An unexpected turn of events takes you by surprise. Someone special hopes you'll react in a very special way. Be ready to act quickly.

Pisces (Feb. 19-Mar. 20) Some knotty problems cause interruptions in your new business plans. But careful attention to details provides you with the clues you need.
